NEW UNIVERSITY

Institution Important in Mexico
Modeled After National School
Leaders of Republic Attend Ceremonies

BY JACK STARR-HUNT
(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
GUADALAJARA (Mex.) Oct. 20.—With many leading educational men of the country present, the University of Guadalajara has been opened here and will take its place as the second in importance of all the educational institutions of the country in keeping with this city as the largest in the country west of Mexico City.

The system of learning adopted at the new university is modeled after that of the National University in Mexico City. The local institute of learning is composed of departments of law, engineering, medicine, fine arts, school of commerce and school of music.

Representing President Calles at the inaugural ceremonies was Secretary of Education, Manuel Puga Camarano. Enrique Zuno, Governor of the State, presided and Alfonso Pruneda, Rector of the National University at Mexico City, led the long list of prominent scientists and professors from all sections of the country who attended the ceremonies. The American, French, British and other foreign consuls took part in the proceedings. Miss Irene Purcell, who is representative of the University of California. The University of Paris and that of Salamanca, Spain, sent representatives as well as other leading educational institutions both in and out of Mexico.

The first number on the program consisted of the playing of a Latin composition which was followed by a brilliant address delivered by Deputy Enrique Diaz de Leon, who dug back into the archives of history and reviewed the wealth of knowledge the world had attained through the establishment and growth of educational institutions. He called upon the student body to "encourage the growth of civilization" in the State of Jalisco and impressed them with the importance attached to the opening of the university.

Dr. Pruneda spoke next and in the name of the mother institution in Mexico City and the oldest university of the Western Hemisphere extended welcome to the Guadalajara seat of learning; he expressed the wish of progress and for the institution, a long and useful life for it and said that in his estimation the school would occupy an important part in the educational centers of Latin American countries.

He concluded his address with an appeal to the public in general, and the student body in particular to realize the importance to Guadalajara of the establishment of the university.

A welcome to the university was extended by a student who delivered by the French consul who extended "the hand of greeting" from France's student body.

After a number of other addresses had been delivered by representative spokesmen of the countries attending the ceremonies, the official act of declaring the university established and open took place when Dr. Puga Camarano, Secretary of Education in the name of President Calles solemnly spoke the words which made the university an accomplished fact and launched it on its career.

PARIS—DESIGNER ASSISTS HUSBANDS CHOOSE FOR WIVES

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Luis Lelong of Paris, designer and manufacturer of gowns, here on a mission for his government to study and report on working conditions among women in the garment trades in America, advances the theory that American business men dictate Paris fashions in women's clothes. He said 75 per cent of the fashionable gowns and hats manufactured in Paris are sold to American women.

"The majority of American women—especially those on their first visit to Paris—bring their husbands or their fathers along when they come to our shops to buy," he said. "Ultimately the men pick out the gowns and hats, and this is the influence of American men which prompted American women to demand loose, comfortable clothing, and this set the vogue for the rest of the world. Men have better taste and sense of proportion than women in the matter of women's apparel."

STUDENTS ACK PROTESTED
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
TUCSON (Ariz.) Oct. 20.—Protest has been made to the university authorities against the "crushing" of the gains of the alto Theater by 150 students, who crowded in to the already well-filled auditorium despite the opposition of Manager Ben Goldsmith and a policeman.

No specific statement on the Locomo agreements themselves will be forthcoming until after a careful analysis of the documents has been completed by Secretary Kellogg. Neither will there be any announcement of the concrete steps to be taken by this government under any given set of conditions until those conditions materialize. The White House sees in the present situation a tangible, if tenuous, reason to believe that substantial progress toward world peace is in the making. It is determined that no ill-considered or premature act shall jeopardize it.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—If President Coolidge should initiate and carry through a movement for world disarmament at this time, he would be considered as "one of the greatest benefactors of mankind," according to A. E. "If for no other reason than an economic one," he said, "we welcome with enthusiasm the suggestion that President Coolidge should initiate a movement for disarmament. This is the psychological opportunity. The pact is way of practical results for what was accomplished there.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—According to recent reports, the Baroness D'Eranger has procured an annulment of her marriage to Baron Robert D'Eranger. Few women have cut wider swaths through international fashion reports than the Baroness. Former mistress of the Baroness were Pedro Bruguera, Peter C. Hewitt and Stuart Denning. The Shah of Persia proposed seventeen times.

As a matter of fact, nothing is further from the intentions of President Coolidge. He believes that Europe must work out her own salvation and he does not propose that America shall say and do anything that in any way will interfere with that process. Should it become apparent that suggestions emanating from Washington might embarrass the success of Europe's tentative and faltering steps toward international understanding, then Washington will be mute. There may be some doubts in the President's mind as to the ability and inclination of the nations of Europe to get together and agree to cut down their land forces. There is no doubt that he still cherishes the hope of another conference at Washington at which this country can sit in and which it can actively promote by aid and example. But this will not come, nor will it even be suggested, until after Europe has said her say on the matter of reducing land armaments.

BASIN FOR HOPE

The White House sees in the Locomo agreement a substantial basis for hope. It was pointed out today that this is the second long advance toward a mutual understanding among the nations engaged in the struggle for world peace. The first, the agreement to the Dawes plan, was an agreement of experts, of financiers and business interests. The Locomo agreement was entered into by the political representatives of the respective governments, the interests unrepresented at the council table of the Dawes commission. Further, the Dawes plan was adopted only through the initiative and driving force of the United States, whereas the Locomo pact was reached with American help. Europe only if she serves. That Europe is finding her own feet and will go forward under her own direction is the President's interpretation of the last week's events at Locarno.

The sole purpose of the United States at this stage is to be as helpful as may be without unjustified interference and without jeopardizing her own interests. It can help Europe only if she helps itself. A growing realization of the fact in the minds of Europe's leaders daily is becoming more apparent to the President.

GIRAND'S DAM
PLAN OPPOSED

Chamber Envoy Gives Reason for Fight on Project
Says Los Angeles' Hope for Water in Jeopardy
Wants Boulder Canyon Site
in Spite of Arizona

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Ralph Criswell, chairman of the water committee of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, appearing before the Federal Water Power Commission today at its hearings on the granting of a license to James B. Girand to build a power dam at Diamond Creek in the Colorado River, said that Los Angeles wants to develop its own power and carry water from the Colorado River for domestic use in the city. Having that in mind the city objects to the granting of a license to Girand, as his dam, once built, would take the cream of the market for power, and if Los Angeles undertook, in any manner, to build or indirectly to finance the building of Boulder dam, it would be handicapped if Girand got in first, he declared.

The most economical use of the lower Colorado would result, he said, from building a 175-foot dam at Black Canyon (near Boulder Canyon) and a 545-foot dam at Bridge Canyon. These two dams would utilize the entire fall of the river from the lower dam to the nation's park boundary and would drive out such a dam as Girand proposes building at Diamond Creek. Girand's dam, which is not in demand from the city, is unsupportable for the city, California, said Criswell, in conclusion, wants Boulder dam built, regardless of what Arizona ratifies the compact or not.

FEARS DELAY

The Imperial Irrigation District, through Charles L. Childers, entered protest against the building of a dam at Diamond Creek, Colorado, River by private capital.

"If the Girand permit should issue," said Childers, "the first argument would be that the development by private capital; why should the United States spend its money to do the same thing that the private capital would do for the benefit of the government."

Childers, while questioning the validity of the proposed waiver in the Girand permit, admitted that California is insisting upon its own ratification of the Colorado River compact, as now proposed in the Spring-Johnson bill.

An amendment of English liquor laws is long overdue, but British statesmen never legislate in front of public opinion.

DEEPLY ROOTED

"The spirit of law abiding in England is so deeply rooted that Britishers look with some dismay upon the undisciplined breaches of law in America. We have such an emotional respect for law that it may be safely said that no legislation affecting liquor will be attempted in Great Britain until it is backed by public opinion."

Joe Marson, 42 years of age, for seven and a half years a patrolman of the Los Angeles police department, and B. Bean, 34, of the U.S.A. Marine Corps, are held at Central Police Station on charges of violating the Harrison Narcotic Act, the result of a raid by police last night on a hotel at 907 East Seventh street. The officers confessed nine ounces of cocaine valued at $3000. Both have admitted their guilt, police stated.

Detective Lieutenant Littlejohn and Detective Southard, Halmes, Boshardt and Therington made the investigation which resulted in the two arrests. Marson lives at 170 South Avenue 19.

According to the officers, Marson and Bean were selling the contraband to a Federal operative. Marson is said by police to have confessed his part in the transaction, giving as a reason for his act his inability to support his family on his compensation as a patrolman. Bean admitted, police reported, he brought the dope to Los Angeles, having smuggled it in on the U.S.S. Colorado.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The second officer of the rudderless Italian freighter Ignazio Florio was washed overboard to his death by high seas, the first officer has sustained a fracture of the leg and all the ship's lifeboats have been smashed, a radio message from the President Harding, which has been standing by all day unable to effect a rescue, reported tonight.

Two attempts by the President Harding to get boats to the Florio failed today, but the ship was stationed by tonight to resume rescue work as soon as possible in an effort to save the crew of thirty-seven. Fearing the Florio might capsize in the storm, Capt. Brening of the President Harding had oil poured on the water but the seas were not quieted enough to permit use of lifeboats.

The Florio, which left Montreal the 4th inst., bound for Mediterranean ports, was hit by a storm. It went out S.O.S. last Monday, the President Harding being the first ship to arrive. The steamer P. Elvira was reported tonight on its way to assist in the rescue.

Capt. Brening's message said high seas were sweeping the Florio and the wind was of hurricane force, although the weather was moderating slightly.

FOR MODERATOR POST

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Eleven candidates for moderator were in the field when the twenty-first biennial convention of the National Council of Congregational Churches of the United States was called here today.

Of the eleven candidates for moderator, seven are lay candidates and four are of the clergy. One of the candidates is a woman, Mary E. Woolley, president of Mt. Holyoke College. Other lay candidates are Frederic Chamberlain, Evanston, Ill.; Roger Babson, Wellesley, Mass.; former Gov. William B. French of Colorado; Paul A. Schweitzer, Los Angeles; Fred R. Smith, New York; and J. F. Harwood of Appleton, Wis.

The clerical candidates are Rev. Orona S. Davis, Chicago; Dan F. Bradley, Cleveland; Charles S. Mills, New York; and Carl S. Patton, Los Angeles.

A spirited contest is expected over proposals to amalgamate nearly a dozen independent missionary activities.

During the meeting the Evangelical Protestant Church, membership of 1000, is being accepted into the Congregational organization. The group is centered in Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis.

ILLITERACY DRIVE PLAN

Bureau of Education to Direct
Campaign; Country in Tenth Place

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—A campaign against illiteracy in the United States is about to be waged under the direction of the Bureau of Education. The last census of the United States showed that country ranks tenth in illiteracy, which seems appalling when it is considered by its citizens as a leader in the world. The aim of those interested in this campaign is to reduce the amount of illiteracy before the next census is taken in 1930.

L. R. Alderman, a prominent educator of Portland, Or., has been appointed as Specialist in Adult Education in the Bureau. Mr. Alderman has had a great deal of experience along this line. Furthermore, his interest in adult education amounts almost to a hobby. As he puts it, "it is wonderful to get paid for doing something you like."

Mr. Alderman has been a county school superintendent, a university professor in the department of education, State superintendent of Oregon and city superintendent of Portland, Or. During the World War he went to France and worked with the Army Education Corps. Afterward he inaugurated a plan of education in the Navy which now reaches 15,000 men. He was also member of the Survey Staff of the New York Public Schools.

Although Mr. Alderman has had much experience in general educational work, he has always been particularly interested in adult education. He has watched and studied the various methods applied to teaching adults. From this study he has come to the conclusion that adults require a different system of teaching. One of the outstanding differences between teaching a child and teaching an adult is that the latter has a view to the fact that he has no background of experience. Everything is new to him. The same thing may be told him over and over and he does not learn. With an adult it is different. However, he has thousands of experiences which have given him a practical knowledge of the world. He may be termed an illiterate, but he is bored with repetition, and likewise does not as a rule take kindly to lecture methods.

Mr. Alderman stresses the fact that because a man is illiterate does not necessarily mean that he is stupid. As an instance he tells the story of the janitor of a public school in a large eastern city. This man, an Italian, was intelligent and performed his duties in an entirely satisfactory manner. However, he could neither read nor write. Finally the superintendent decreed that it was out of keeping to have a janitor of a public school illiterate. Whereupon he was dismissed.

Later this erstwhile janitor rose to a position of prominence and wealth in the business world. When teaching an adult Mr. Alderman believes that consideration should be given to what the pupil has learned by actual experience. The Bureau of Education hopes to decrease the illiteracy of the country by the use of the plan which is being worked out by the Bureau. Several States have already appointed commissions and are preparing to work vigorously toward reducing illiteracy so that when the next report of the Bureau of the Census comes out the United States will make a better showing.

American Expedition Tests
Deep-Sea Invention

Wonders of Ocean Studied
Under Bay of Naples

Optical Phenomena May be
Work of Ancients

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NAPLES, Oct. 20.—The deep-sea diving cylinder designed by Dr. Hans Hartman of New York, which is constructed to withstand pressure at great depths, has proved successful in the preliminary tests which have been completed in the Bay of Naples.

Initial descents were made in comparatively shallow water to survey archaeological sites near Baia. Descents to depths far below the furthest limits of a diver's endurance will be made during the coming month in various sections of the Mediterranean. The new City Charter, which has been placed at the disposal of the American expedition by Mrs. Juliet Barrett Rublee of New York and Cornish, N. H. Mrs. Rublee joined the expedition here and will take an active part in the work.

While awaiting the completion of the cylinder, the divers have been studying the ruins of the Baia studies of submerged ruins. Dr. Hartman is using his subaqueous camera in probing the mystery of the grotto, which is the famous Blue Grotto of Capri. His photographs are the first scientific records of the submarine structure of the grotto. They are expected to reveal what part, if any, was played by man in producing the optical phenomena which attract thousands of visitors to this rocky lair at the extreme south of the Gulf of Naples.

Photographs are being taken at various depths both from the interior and exterior of the cave. At the entrance of the grotto, a merged arch, measuring fifty feet in height and forty feet across at its widest opening, permits the light to filter through the sea into its darkest recesses. Around Capri, the water is exceptionally clear and of the deepest blue. It reflects the white rays of the sunlight, absorbs the red and yellow rays and transmits only those of a blue color. The reflection on the walls of the grotto causes a strange and marvelous effect which is described as "ethereal" and "palpating blue harmony."

NATURAL OR ARTIFICIAL

"Science has long speculated on the origin of the grotto's submerged arch," said Dr. Hartman. "But only panchromatic photographs taken from the interior of the cavern against the illuminated background of the sunlit sea will definitely decide whether nature modeled the submarine structure by the forces of erosion, or whether it was originally fashioned or enlarged by human hands."

"Archaeology has already discovered distinct traces of chiseling on the walls and vault of an interior passage. But light rays, which serve as the only means of illumination to the grotto, as well as the submerged arch, were designed and executed by man. The present entrance is four and one-half feet above the crown of the sunken arch. It barely permits a small boat to enter at a time, according to some investigators, the submerged arch was once the entrance to the grotto, and the small opening was cut by the Romans to furnish ventilation. Whatever the value of the theory, geological records clearly indicate that the island of Capri once stood at a much higher level than it does today. Under these conditions, the now submerged archway, natural or man-made, would have been at least twelve feet above the surface and easily accessible to visitors."

"For centuries the Blue Grotto was held taboo by the people of Capri, as the traditional dwelling place of evil spirits. Not until 1824, when it was rediscovered by August Kopisch, a German artist, had it been explored in modern times. One of the most popular historic theories makes it the scene of the rites of an erotic cult under the protection of the Roman Emperor Tiberius, who selected Capri as his place of voluntary exile."

NEW LIGHT ON LIGHT

Another section of the expedition, under Dr. Von Stalberg of Berlin, is continuing the studies in deep-sea light and color. Sunlight, it has been established, penetrates to about 2000 feet. But light-colored life has been found at 15,000 feet. What is the explanation? One theory is that what may appear to the human eye as a luminous darkness has in reality a luminosity which the human eye is incapable of perceiving. This theory is supported by the fact that the light is not visible to the human eye.

"Falling in love is the most natural yet the most extraordinary thing about it is that all ordinary rules of common sense are rejected. Some people fall in and fall out a dozen times without seeming the worst for wear. If one can resist the first attack it is easier to resist the second. The real perplexing thing is to know when you ought to succumb."

"It takes a wise man to know when it is the real thing and when it is only 'puppy love.' The man who sits down and calmly decides what kind of a wife he will have will never have any. Somehow, we are not made that way."

OCTOGENARIANS MARRIED

Father of President Williams of Pacific Coast League
Weds Mrs. Rebecca S. Naylor in Oakland

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Father Time was outwitted and ignored tonight when Mrs. Rebecca S. Naylor, 81 years of age, pioneer Berkeley woman, became the bride of Herman D. Williams, 83, veteran newspaper man, citrus grower of Whittier and father of Harry Williams, president of the Pacific Coast Baseball League.

In spite of their years both of the principals in tonight's wedding were as shy and retiring as youngsters when interviewed. When told that the news of their nuptials had been obtained through the Oakland marriage license bureau, the bride declared:

"Why, that's terrible. I'll never get another marriage license from that office as long as I live."

BOTH QUAKERS

Both the bride and groom are birthright members of the Quaker faith. Mrs. Naylor being an ordained minister in the Society of Friends and having been pastor of the Berkeley Friends Church at one time for a period of six years.

Williams is a native of Iowa and began his newspaper career in Des Moines. Later he became part owner and publisher of the Des Moines Capital, holding that position until he moved his family to California some twenty-five years ago. He continued his work in publishing the Whittier Register. He was once head of the Prisoners' Aid Society of Iowa, and gained wide recognition in his native State through his reclamation work among ex-convicts.

The bride is the widow of the late Addison W. Naylor, pioneer Berkeley banker, and mother of the late Frank Naylor, who was president of the Berkeley branch of the Mercantile Trust Company until his death two years ago.

LONG-TIME FRIENDS

The couple have been friends for more than fifty years. They became acquainted in 1870 when they attended the same village school in New Shore, Iowa. During their lives both have been active in church activities of the Quaker denomination. Williams having organized the Whittier Society, the largest in Southern California.

Tonight's ceremony was in the form of the quiet old Quaker custom, which is performed without the aid of a minister. The words of the ritual being said by the principals themselves. Departing slightly from the Quaker custom, the last line of the marriage service was pronounced by Rev. Levi Gregory, pastor of the Oakland Friends Church.

The couple will make their home in Berkeley at 2327 Durant avenue, the present home of the bride.

Police Comb Nation for Communist Who Made
Escape from Dieppe Boat Train

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The police have a whole trunk full of Red literature and file containing of Red banners bearing the slogan, "on with the revolution," but they cannot find the owner. He came ashore at a detective spotted him and gave orders that his baggage be held but when he was looked for he had slipped away.

It was presumed that he got aboard the train for London and four detectives met it in Victoria Station, but he was not there. The supposed Red emissary either passed around the rear of the train to the arrival platform at New Haven Station and so got away, or he alighted at one of the stops on the way to London. The detectives are now out scouring the country for him.

Quick work was made of another Communist. He is a Russian, who has been preaching sedition for the last eight months on the Clyde. Scotland Yard detectives arrested him, his wife and child yesterday and brought them to London. They will be deported.

Six Communists arrested last week in London are fighting with every legal right they possess. They applied today through Sir Henry Slesser, Solicitor-General under the Socialist government, for a writ against the "Evening News" because of the way it treated the news of their arrest. Slesser put in the entire copy of the newspaper because, he explained, the arrest of his clients was mentioned in several places and his complaint was founded on matter spread over several pages.

Slesser's contention is that the newspaper had made objectionable comments on the pending proceedings and that it assumed the defendant, who are Communists, are therefore guilty of the charge of inciting to sedition and mutiny. The case will be argued Monday.

RECEPTION PLANNED FOR HOMESEEKERS

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

LAREDO (Tex.) Oct. 20.—Arrangements were completed by the Laredo Chamber of Commerce for the reception to be tendered the members of the first homeseekers' excursion to be run to the Laredo section in a number of years. A special train carrying 150 homeseekers from Missouri, Kansas and other States in charge of Charles F. E. Ladd of Kansas City, will come to Laredo and after being shown the onion fields, orange groves, and other industries will proceed to the Catarina Ranch in the northern portion of Webb county and the southern portion of Dimmitt county and inspect the 225,000 acres that have been put on the market for colonization purposes.

CHINA'S REVOLT GROWS SERIOUS

Marshal Wu Will Assume Rebel Command

General Central Alliance
Being Organized

Manchu Chief Attempts to Avoid Entering Fight

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)

SHANGHAI, Oct. 20.—Renewal of civil war in China, hitherto localized to the district between Shanghai and Hankow, today assumed a more serious aspect with the return to the political and military arena of Wu Pei-fu, military dictator at Peking from 1922 to 1924 and the mutiny of two Kiangsu divisions. Wu, who has acknowledged the leadership of Chang Tso-Lin, the Manchurian military.

Marshal Wu, who since he was thrust from power a year ago by the combination of Chang Tso-Lin, and Feng Yu-Hsiang, the "Christian general," has been in semi-retirement in Central China, has definitely announced his opposition to Peking and to Chang Tso-Lin at Mukden.

Advices to Reuters' Agency here say that he is expected to arrive today in Hankow and there announce his assumption of the title of commander-in-chief of the Central provinces, the alliance to include Kiangsu, in which Shanghai is located; Chekiang, Anhui, Kiangsi, Hupai, and Formosa.

ALLIANCE FORMED

It is reported on good authority here that Wu Pei-fu has offered the chairmanship of this alliance to Frank Shiao-Yi, former premier and once a moderate member of the Kuo Min Tang, the party of Sun Yat-sen. The alliance proposed to establish an independent administration at Hankow, denying the authority of Peking, and restoring the parliament which Tuan Chi-jui disbanded when he was made chief executive at Peking last November after Wu's defeat. This body is called the "constitutional" parliament by its supporters.

Chinese reports reaching Shanghai say that some sort of co-operation has been arranged between Wu Pei-fu and Feng Yu-Hsiang, the "Christian general," whose defeat in 1924 was the principal cause of Wu's defeat. Feng has been making warlike preparations, presumably against Chang Tso-Lin, his old enemy.

Wu Pei-fu, who is now in the northwest of Peking, for the last several months. By the reported agreement of the Tsuchin of Hsiao-nan, one of Feng's supporters, would send troops to Hankow to cut off the troops of Chang Tso-Lin, retreating north from Shanghai and Kiangsu points.

Thus far the province of Hunan, which is known to sympathize with Wu Pei-fu, has not joined the alliance. Several Chinese warships are sailing from northern ports to the Yangtze River, and it is believed they intend to join the alliance.

The military situation on the lower Yangtze front was further complicated yesterday when Gen. Yang Yu-Ting, commanding the forces of Chang Tso-Lin, this morning, crossed the river from Nan-king with a number of his troops. Thereupon the fourth and tenth divisions of the Nationalist army, Marshal Chang when Chi Hsien-Yuan, then Tsuchin of Hsiao-nan, was defeated in 1924, revolted and attacked the Nationalist army at Chang Tso-Lin's Mukden divisions and sent the men back across the river to Peking.

Chang Tso-Lin's troops were surprised and offered only feeble resistance. There were few casualties and no looting and order was quickly restored.

Foreign interests in Nanking, where this affair occurred, were not damaged. Chang Tso-Lin's troops are retreating northward.

CHANG REFUSES TO BE DRAWN INTO WAR

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)
PEKING, Oct. 20.—The continued withdrawal of Marshal Chang Tso-Lin's troops before the advancing Chekiang forces, gives point to Chang's reported determination not to be drawn into conflict except as a last resort.

The Manchurian war lord has telegraphed the Cabinet members, stating that he is in complete agreement with the Peking government's desire to preserve peace and inclined to disregard the provocative actions of the Chekiang Governor. His attitude is favorably commented upon in the Chinese press.

Chang furthermore is reported to have sent an emissary to Feng Yu-Hsiang, the Christian general, suggesting co-operation in the event of war developing.

Although the military activities are inconceivable the arriving (and departing) delegates, they are having no effect upon the preparations for the conference.

The express railway service between Peking and Nanking has been discontinued. No express trains are running irregularly, the service amounting to a practical suspension of traffic on China's main land artery joining Peking and Shanghai.

Your Water Rates

As the result of a direct mandate in the new City Charter, the Municipal Water Bureau is obliged to for an increase in water rates.

Under the old City Charter a portion of the interest and sinking fund charges on outstanding water bonds was collected by general tax levy, the remainder being paid from water revenues. The new City Charter, which was adopted by the people and became effective July 1, 1925, requires the Water Bureau to pay all these charges directly out of its revenues and relieves the taxpayer from any further charge on account of water bonds.

The additional burden thus placed upon the Water Bureau by the new Charter amounts to $1,500,000 annually, and the water rates are fixed to enable the Bureau to meet this additional obligation.

The Water Bureau, being a municipally-owned utility, its service on a cost basis. Thus an increase in its expenses, which that expense does not increase its gross earnings, MUST be reflected in its rates.

The new rates asked by the Water Bureau will enable the Bureau to meet all annual charges on bonds now outstanding as well as other bonds that may be voted from time to time to improve and extend the existing water supply and distribution system.

With the new rates in effect, Los Angeles will enjoy one of the lowest water rate schedules in the United States.

A national survey recently completed by the American Water Works Association reveals that in 183 of the largest and most representative American cities the average domestic water rate is 18 cents per 100 cubic feet. Compared to this 18-cent rate, the present water rate in Los Angeles is 10 cents while under the new schedule it will be 13 cents, or 5 cents less than the average.

Los Angeles enjoys, and will continue to enjoy, one of the lowest water rate schedules in America. And yet it is one of the most difficult and expensive cities to supply. This is true for the following reasons:

1. The Water Bureau brings the major portion of this water supply from the High Sierras over a distance of 230 miles through an aqueduct passing over forbidding desert and rugged mountain country. It is the longest municipal aqueduct in the world.

2. Los Angeles is the largest city in the world, geographically. A mile of distributing main serves fewer people in Los Angeles than in any other large city in America. Thus the cost of water distribution is much higher here than elsewhere.

3. Los Angeles is one of the most rapidly growing cities in America. Thus the expense of enlargements and extensions of distributing mains and other facilities is correspondingly greater than in the average city.

4. The uneven topography of Los Angeles, while making a beautiful home city, requires a tremendous amount of pumping expense. The Bureau serves water from elevations of the way between sea level to 1400 feet above sea level, a condition necessitating the operation of numerous distributing systems and a heavy distributing cost.

Despite these conditions and with the new rates in effect, Los Angeles people will continue to get their water far cheaper than the average rate paid by consumers in other American cities.

There are other conditions, in addition to the principal ones in this advertisement, that have served to increase the Water Bureau's expenses without providing a compensating increase in its gross earnings. A full exposition of these conditions, together with a tabulation of the present and proposed new rate schedule, will be sent to every water consumer with the November statements.

GEORGE CORSON SWAM 2 1/2 MILES WITH HIS FINGERS AND FEET TIED?

HUGH FLETCHER PLAYED A GOLF HOLE 14 MILES LONG IN 282 STROKES?

ED WATSON MADE A FUNGO HIT OF OVER 419 FEET?

George H. Corson of New York City, once swam two and a half miles across Toronto Bay with his hands and feet tied? Corson, who is a swimming instructor and coach for the Y.M.C.A. National Council in New York City, performed this "iron-man" stunt last July.

Hugh Fletcher, golf pro. of the Bourkeville Club in Canada, played a fourteen-mile hole in 282 strokes? Fletcher started from the center of Winnipeg, played his ball safely through the business district and the suburbs, over a bridge and then across plowed fields and all minutes. As stated in a previous "Did You Know That" column, two Englishmen once played a twenty-mile cross-country hole in 408 strokes.

Ed Watson, famous spit-ball pitcher of the world's champion Chicago White Sox in 1906, made a fungo hit of 419 feet? This record was set at the field day held at Cermak Park, September 30, 1911, and exceeds the former record held by M. Mitchell of the Reds, who over five feet. Babe Ruth once batted a pitched ball 587 feet.

George H. Corson of New York City, once swam two and a half miles across Toronto Bay with his hands and feet tied? Corson, who is a swimming instructor and coach for the Y.M.C.A. National Council in New York City, performed this "iron-man" stunt last July.

Hugh Fletcher, golf pro. of the Bourkeville Club in Canada, played a fourteen-mile hole in 282 strokes? ## TWO NAGS SEEM SUPERSTITIOUS

BY A. P. MURPHY

BRANDON (Vt.) Oct. 20. The thirteen horses remaining in the 200-mile endurance test all arrived here tonight within the nine hour limit, completing the second day of the five-day grind. Two horses were withdrawn at the start today because they had developed slight temperatures. They were Gladstone Morgan, from the Morgan horse farm, and Vanity Fair, grade thoroughbred, owned by the One Hundred and First New York National Guard unit.

Brandon, the lad who had shot the boy for the big shot with Fidel La Barba, is what Frank Churchill says about Clever Sencio's fight with Roy Riley at the Hollywood Legion stadium Friday night.

Sencio has only been in the States two months. He has had three fights and they have all been good enough to make him one of the best attractions in local boxing circles. His last start was against George Rivers and he won the nod over the popular Mexican bantamweight.

Tom Gaffney is grooming Clever Sencio for the big championship battle. Frank Churchill realizes that Roy Riley is a tough, but he wants Sencio to meet a better boy every time he starts until he gets Fidel La Barba.

Billy Atkinson, the lad who had sailed Billy Vincent on the floor, meets Sencio in the semi-final. Sencio has just returned from the East, and this is his first start. Before leaving California he fought two main events at Hollywood, one against Alex Maurice, and the other with Billy Wells. Both were great fights.

Normally a fullback, Griffin has been filling in at a half-back berth, while Capt. "Tex" Imley was recovering from injuries. Now that the Little Bear leader is again ready for action the question facing Smith is whether to continue Griffin at his original position, where he would alternate with Earl Jahn and Al Young, or keep him in as a substitute for Imley.

The problem may settle itself if "Buck" Marcus, sophomore, develops sufficiently to act the role of safety man. In the event this occurs, Marcus probably will be Imley's substitute and Griffin will resume the line-backing job.

Another change which may be only temporary, but, on the other hand, may be permanent, is the sending up of Harvey to the first squad. Harvey, a first-class tackle, is a sophomore and his lack of experience probably will handicap him somewhat in competing with Johnny Sargent and Bart Cook, Sargent, however, is not in the best shape. He was bruised up a bit in the St. Mary's game.

Coach Fred Oster will take a very-look football team over to play the Oxy fresh in the opening game at 12:30 o'clock. The Branch Freshmen start the season with another championship team in prospect, but since that time intelligibility have taken the punch out of Oster's squad. Eustion, Presburg and Epstein are the only original players left on the line, and Epstein is practically out with a bad back.

The backfield, with La Bucherle at quarter, Middleton and Rhodes at half and Fields at full, still looks good, although the line plunging of Fleming will be missed.

Al Kline, the Oxy star, will be in the game, and what he is expected to do to the freshmen from the Branch is censured. Kline is one of the best backs at Occidental and could easily find a place on the varsity if he was eligible.

With the signing of Fields and McLarnin and Sencio and La Barba the work of Joe Levy since he was installed as matchmaker in the Olympic Auditorium organization resembles that of a high-powered motor. Joe has been hitting on all cylinders and in the course of the next eight weeks will have two world's championships in action at the local arena—Mike Ballerino, the junior lightweight champ, and Fidel La Barba, the flyweight champion. Here's the program at the Olympic for the next eight nights—Home Beautiful show (no fight).

November 4—Billy Bonillas-Pete Sarmiento. November 5—Jackie Wields-Johnny Larrain. November 18—Pete Sarmiento-Bud Taylor. November 25—Ace Hudkins-Sid Torres. December 2—Fidel La Barba-Cleaver Sencio. December 9—Tod Morgan-Mike Ballerino.

Eddie O'Leary and his blond terror from Terra Haute, Bud Taylor, the original hard-luck kid, are back in Los Angeles and waiting for the con game which will send Bud and Doc Snell together at Vernon next Tuesday night. In addition to the broken hand, which he has been nursing back to normalcy for the past three months Bud had a session with a ball on his elbow. If it isn't one thing with Bud it's another. He has had to pass up thousands of dollars each year because of injuries.

PARKRIDGE CLUB TO CATER TO RACKETERS Tennis will be a popular sport at the Parkridge Country Club, according to Dan Gilkey, president, who announced yesterday that contracts have been let for the highest-type modern courts. L. J. Turner of Long Beach was the successful bidder. It is said that something new in the way of surfacing, similar to cement, will be used—an innovation on the Pacific Coast.

Championships will be sponsored by the Coronado Tennis Club long noted for fostering the sport and which joined Parkridge in a body, will be the nucleus of a championship aggregation.

Better a Few Days' Delay Than Months of Bitter Disappointment

If you are disposed to be impatient because every new 90-degree Cadillac is snapped up the day it is delivered to the dealer—learn from your friends who are reveling in the new car the delights you will lose by not waiting a few days.

Choice of some other car has always meant the sacrifice of satisfaction—but never before has the invigorating dash, difference and distinctiveness of Cadillac been so immediately apparent.

Cadillac increased its magnificent factory equipment by more than $2,500,000 in new tools, dies and machinery for the perfection of this new car.

Money enough to equip an ordinary motor car plant—to insure a Cadillac performance so certain and so brilliant that the most indifferent motorist must awaken to new enthusiasm.

That is why this spontaneous demand is blanketing forty-eight states—that is why any fortunate owner of a new 90-degree Cadillac will urge you with earnest enthusiasm to consider no other car.

CABARETS FEEL NEW DRY DRIVE

Thirty Places in New York
Form Objective

Owners Receive Summons to Appear in Court

Exclusive Supper Clubs Face
Federal Padlock

(BY A. P. STORY WRITER)

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Broadway cabarets and supper clubs were the objective today of the most sweeping prohibition drives yet waged along the famous thoroughfare. Thirty of the best-known night resorts were served with summons and complaint by members of U. S. Dist. Atty. Buckner's staff.

Throughout last night and early today the Federal prosecutor's men visited the all-night places and left papers requiring the owners to appear in Federal Court to answer charges of selling liquor. Some of the places were off the Great White Way, one being the Lido Venice, exclusive supper club in East Fifty-third street, near Fifth avenue.

The action against the thirty places was Mr. Buckner's first step in his announced plan to padlock approximately 100 of the leading Manhattan resorts, mostly along Broadway, suspected of selling liquor. Included in today's list of cabarets and supper clubs are the Del Foy Club, near Times Square; the Piping Rock and the Game Cock restaurants, east of Fifth avenue; the Piccadilly Hampton Renaissance, the Floodlight Supper Club, the Half-Moon, and the Hickey Hotel, in the Broadway district; and the Golden Eagle, in Greenwich Village.

Some of the places were on what Mr. Buckner termed his "noisy list," their managements having been enjoined from ever again violating the prohibition law. In such places all waiters were summoned. Among these were the Lido Venice, the Del Foy Club, and the Piping Rock.

The waiters were ordered to appear before the Federal grand jury today.

Scenes of excitement prevailed in some of the resorts upon the entry of government agents and policemen.

In some cases, the process-serving squads reported, the crash of many liquor bottles hastily broken to destroy evidence, could be heard before entrance was gained. Mr. Buckner today made known the discovery that the Del Foy Club supplied its patrons with liquor through a pipe connecting with another building. Scotch gin or champagne could be obtained by turning certain faucets, the prosecutor said, adding that this club was under the same management that had operated the El-Fey Club, which was padlocked several months ago.

Cadet Learns to Pilot Plane in Five Hours

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Oct. 20. With but four hours and fifty-five minutes of dual flying instruction, Carlisle I. Ferris, Jr., a cadet in the primary flying class at Brooks Field, took a plane into the air by himself and gained the distinction of being the first member of his class to fly solo. Ferris lives in San Diego, Cal.

Cadet Ferris is a student of Lieut. Hugh W. Downing and is taking his training in one of the new type training planes, a PT-1. His short time of dual instruction before flying solo is believed to be a record at Brooks Field and is said also to demonstrate the ease with which the new type training plane is handled. Ten hours of dual instruction is the average amount of time required before a student is permitted to fly solo in the old type J-3 plane, commonly known as the "jenny."

Two Canadian Women Hiking Long Distance

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
VANCOUVER (B. C.) Oct. 20. British Columbia's women hikers have covered 450 miles of their trip through northern wilds. Miss Anna Hourke and Mrs. Sam Johnson, making a 500 mile walk from Prince Rupert, B. C., to Vancouver reached Prince George, the halfway point. The women are carrying packs and have revolvers slung on their hips. They travel alone. They left Prince Rupert on September 17, last. The women covered twenty-five miles per day over Canadian National Railway ties. From Prince George they will head south through Central British Columbia over mountain roads and expect to arrive in Vancouver in about a month.

CALLES ASKED TO OPEN LAND FOR COLONISTS

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Oct. 20. President Calles of Mexico will be asked through the Mexican Blue Cross to open large farms and ranches for colonization in the southern republic. After speakers advocated this step at the final session of the Mexican Blue Cross convention here, the delegates approved it wholeheartedly. On recommendation of Consul-General E. R. Rutz of El Paso, Tex., the convention voted to establish a Blue Cross magazine, to be published at El Paso.

after the present
stock is sold

The reason is this: No more sets in the New Form at a reduction of 46% can be produced for nearly a year. To print the Britannica in any form is a stupendous undertaking. It takes three or four months to make the paper. It takes five months more for printing and binding. In any event we could not guarantee delivery on a new printing before next September.

Of course you will still be able to get the Britannica—but only in the Cambridge Issue, which sells for nearly twice as much.

Only prompt action will get one of these sets

"Some day," you have said, "I will own the Encyclopaedia Britannica." Today you have the opportunity to obtain one of the splendid sets of the New Form, praised by thousands as the ideal Britannica, at the remarkable saving of 46%.

But you must act promptly. If you delay only a few days your opportunity may be gone. You owe it to yourself to fill out the coupon for full particulars, now, before you forget it. This coupon commits you in no way.

The Encyclopaedia Britannica in the New Form is the finest bargain, the biggest value in the 157 years of the Britannica's history. Our amazing offer brings the price of this famous library of knowledge below the price of a typewriter, a phonograph or a radio set.

This Beautiful Bookcase Free

This beautiful bookcase, in mahogany finish, especially designed by Maple & Co. of London, will be given free with each set in the New Form while this offer lasts.

Never before at this low price!

"I consider it a great bargain—I have never had so much value for my money," is the comment of those who have purchased this set of books at this low price. You, too—by acting promptly—can buy the Britannica in the New Form for 46% less than the famous Cambridge issue... for the lowest price at which the large page, latest revised, large type Britannica has ever been sold to the general public.

Why the price of this famous book is so low

The New Form is a remarkable publishing achievement—an innovation by experts making possible a sweeping reduction in price.

Costs were cut almost in two by Binding the complete Britannica in 16 double volumes instead of 32 single volumes.

Using the thin yet durable Britannica Opacity Paper—2400 tons purchased at a very favorable price.

Printing the New Form from the latest revised, large type plates of the Cambridge issue, saving the cost of setting up 33,000 pages of type.

These savings are shared with you. If you act quickly you can be one of the fortunate few who will buy the Britannica at such an amazingly low price. And remember, the Britannica in the New Form is identical in contents, word for word, page for page, with the large type, large

Outstanding Features of the Britannica Half Price Sale

Since the Britannica was first published in the remarkable New Form, less than fourteen months ago, nearly 40,000 sets have been sold. This breaks all records for sales of books of this character.

10,000 sets were recently printed to meet the demand for the next few months, but we are nearing the end of our stock, although it is still eight weeks till Christmas, the season of our biggest sales.

The Britannica in the New Form CANNOT BE REPRINTED FOR NEARLY A YEAR. If you are willing to choose the famous Cambridge issue, which sells for nearly twice as much, there is no need for haste.

But if you wish to save HALF that price, you must act now, today. We have a sufficient stock of the sets in the New Form, at a saving of 46% to last a short time—but that is all.

Espee and Union Pacific Pay Levy in New York

Steel Corporation Also Assessed There

Highway Officials Point to Inconsistencies

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The actual ownership and location of railroads and steel corporation properties, which have their headquarters in New York, has been traced by the American Association of State Highway Officials in connection with the work of that association in determining the original sources of revenue for road building. Out-of-town bank deposits in New York also have been traced with same end in view, according to a statement issued by the association.

The Union Pacific and Southern Pacific are taken as railway examples. Both of these companies pay income tax in New York, but in each case, highway officials point out, earnings are derived from properties located half the width of a continent away from New York. The Union Pacific stops at Omaha and the Southern Pacific at New Orleans. Therefore, according to the viewpoint of highway officials, Western States and not New York should be credited with the $9,640,000 paid by these corporations into the Federal Treasury in 1923, since their earnings come from territory outside of New York. "No attempt," says the statement, "is made to give the list of stockholders of these two railroads, but it is common knowledge that they live in many States."

The United States Steel Corporation, the statement continues, "paid an income tax of $16,000,000 in New York in 1923. Only two of the 145 plants and warehouses owned by that corporation are located in New York, and of its 153,350 stockholders, only 32,323 live in New York. The remaining 121,027 are scattered throughout forty-seven States, and Alaska, Canal Zone, Hawaii, Philippine Islands, Porto Rico and foreign countries. Outside of New York with her 32,323 stockholders, Pennsylvania leads with 41,917."

"In the case of banks," says the association report, "the United States Treasury statement on May 15, 1925, showed that while the deposits in the New York City national banks totaled $2,218,027,000, a study of that statement disclosed the fact that 38 per cent of those deposits were from banks and trust companies outside of New York State."

Children at Mooseheart Live Happily

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
MOOSEHEART (Ill.) Oct. 20.—Happiness of the children is one of the chief considerations in the class rooms, cottages, shops and playgrounds at this Loyal Order of Moose city of childhood where the youngsters go to school forty-eight weeks of the year. There is no lack of recreation of any sort—motion pictures, plays, games, parties, trips to fairs, grand opera and other places of amusement beyond the limits of the estate of 1923 acres and swimming, camping, skating, all water sports and all other adventures of wholesome youth. Mooseheart boys even indulge in that passion no longer to be gratified by most city-born youths—the building and fixing up of a shack according to one's own tastes.

Matthew P. Adams, the bachelor superintendent of Mooseheart, in talking of his school system of forty-eight weeks the year, says: "We have never had to take a child out of school for nervous disorders here at Mooseheart in the twelve years we have been conducting the all-year school. Teachers, too," he added, "maintain good health on the all-year system."

Britons Make Way for Irish in Pilgrimage

(BY CARL—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
ROME, Oct. 20.—British and other pilgrims conducting religious exercises in St. Peter's yesterday generously made way for the Irish pilgrims entering in processional order, headed by bishops representing the church, and President William Cosgrave, representing the Irish Free State, witnessing one of the most impressive ceremonies in the great cathedral in many days. When the entire congregation was kneeling at the moment of consecration of solemn mass, celebrated by Bishop Mulhern, the Irish flags dipped to the ground, mingling religious ecstasy with patriotic fervor.

RANCHMAN STABBED IN ROW WITH WORKER

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
FLAGSTAFF (Ariz.) Oct. 20.—D. D. Smith is lying in his home in Williams in serious condition from a pocket-knife wound over the heart. His assailant, assistant W. M. Lawrence is in the County Jail here. Lawrence is said to have used the knife after he had been knocked down by Smith, his employer on a cattle ranch in the Hell Canyon section, southwest of Williams. About two years ago, Smith was acquitted of blame in the shooting of Harry Wade of Williams, but was assessed nominal damages for Wade's injuries.

JAPANESE PHYSICIAN CONVICTED BY BOARD

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SACRAMENTO, Oct. 20.—Dr. Tichoka, Japanese physician and surgeon of Los Angeles, today was found guilty by the State Board of Medical Examiners on a charge of illegal advertising and was placed on probation for three years. The board considered the case of Dr. Edward O. Hanlon of Los Angeles, charged with violating the State Pharmacy Act, but continued it until the Los Angeles meeting in order to obtain further evidence.

CREW DEFENDED
IN SHIP TRAGEDYCaptain Denounces Attack as Result of FireDenial Made at Inquiry by Federal InspectorOnly Negro Waiter Said to Have Been Intoxicated

(BY A. P. MURPHY WIRE)
JACKSONVILLE (Fla.) Oct. 20.—Statements made in criticism of the crew of the Clyde liner Comanche, when she was burned off Mayport, Fla., last Saturday night, were declared "positively untrue" by Capt. Edward E. Curry of Montclair, N. J., master of the Comanche, today.

The denial was made before George W. Harney of Norfolk, Va., supervising inspector of the United States Steamboat Inspection Service, who interrogated Capt. Curry. The statements attributed by the two New York newspapers to passengers arriving there were made a part of the investigation into the burning of the ship, which resulted in one passenger, William T. Lawler of Wintthrop, Mass., being missing.

Capt. Curry denied charges that the negro crew was drunk, saying only one person was intoxicated, and that was a negro waiter. He added:

"The steward reported to me on the bridge that there were no others so affected."

The white-haired captain also denied charges that the crew deserted itself in an unseamanlike manner.

"I made no such statement," the captain said in reply to a question by Harney, after the reading of an alleged statement by L. N. Jonassen, master of the tanker Reaper, in which Jonassen is quoted as saying that Comanche officers after his arrival on the scene said that no assistance was needed. Capt. Curry characterized this statement as absurd.

"I saw no confusion among either the passengers or crew," Capt. Curry declared. "There was one woman, an elderly lady, however, who was hysterical."

BANDIT SUSPECT SEIZED
(BY A. P. MURPHY WIRE)

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 20.—R. Lapowell, one of the three bandits asserted to have participated in the hold-up of a soft-drink stand here last June, in which Greer Durate, member of the bandit gang, was slain, was taken into custody at Roseville today by Sheriff's deputies.

MASTER OF AMERICA'S LOST ART

Says We're Still Judges of Cocktails

Harry Craddock

(BY CARL E. ENGLISH DISPATCH)
LONDON, Oct. 20.—In spite of prohibitions Americans are still the world's champion connoisseurs of the drink they originated—the cocktail—according to Harry Craddock, expert at the Savoy Hotel, London, where he is America's cocktail representative. He holds a certificate showing that he had mixed the last legal cocktail in America. Craddock recently evolved a new cocktail, known as "The Tango," which has met with favor among the hotel's patrons.

POSTOFFICE REORGANIZED
PHOENIX, Oct. 20.—Official announcement has been made of a reorganization of the supervisory official force of the Phoenix post-office. William E. Farrow, late assistant postmaster at Bisbee, becomes superintendent of mails. Harper E. Hughes, assistant superintendent and Ellis M. Weir head of the money order division.

QUAKER CITY MAY RETAIN
POLICE CZARMayor to Forward Request to Continue Gen. Butler in Present Post

(BY A. P. MURPHY WIRE)
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—Mayor Kendrick announced today that he would make a formal request of President Coolidge to extend Gen. Smedley D. Butler's leave of absence from the Marine Corps so that he may continue as director of public safety here. The announcement followed the receipt of advice from Washington that the matter depended largely upon the wishes of the Mayor.

Several requests, including a personal plea by Gov. Pinchot, that the General be permitted to remain in Philadelphia, have been placed before the President, but none has come from the Mayor. Until such a request is received, the President is said to hold the view that he should take no action.

Gen. Butler, in an address last night, intimated that if it "came to a showdown," he would consider giving up his position with the Marine Corps in order to remain here.

ANNUL MARRIAGE

OF YOUNG COUPLE

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

HANFORD, Oct. 20.—Annulment of the marriage of a couple wedded in Modesto a year ago, both bride and groom swearing falsely to their ages, was made by Judge Beaumont of Fresno, sitting on the court bench here yesterday afternoon.

R. C. Meldrum, father of the young husband, brought suit for the annulment and testified that he never consented to the marriage, that the young couple resided in an apartment here for a few months and then separated, and the daughter-in-law resided in San Francisco the last he had heard of her.

Arthur Meldrum, who holds a clerical position in the Kings county Court House, testified that he and his wife had both perjured themselves as to their ages in applying for their marriage license.

Italian Mission to Economize on
Trip to America

(BY CARL E. ENGLISH DISPATCH)
ROME, Oct. 20.—Economy will be the watchword of the Italian debt-funding delegation under Finance Minister Count Volpi, which leaves for the United States Thursday on the liner Dullin, sailing from Naples. All the members of the delegation under the rank of principals or experts, will be lodged in second-class cabins.

An interesting feature of the personnel is the inclusion of two police officers.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Farrar of Scarborough, Eng., both of whom were born deaf and dumb, celebrated their diamond wedding jubilee recently.

THE prizes of life today go to the vigorous. The healthy man fears nothing. He has no time for worry—that arch-enemy of successful achievement. He has a magnetic personality. He naturally attracts friends—he is successful in his work and business. Abundant health means good spirits, good work and "good luck." It is to your advantage in every way—indeed, it is your DUTY—to be strong, vigorous, healthy.

The "I-on-a-co" is an electro-magnetic therapeutic device developed by Gaylord Wilshire—internationally famous as the originator of the Wilshire District—and who is now devoting himself to bringing the "I-on-a-co" to as many sufferers as possible.

Wilshire's "I-on-a-co" magnetizes the iron in the human body. The theory on which it is based, embraces a synthesis of the latest discoveries of the Rockefeller Institute, the Mayo foundation, and especially Otto Warburg, the great German biologist.

Wilshire's "I-on-a-co" is a pleasant treatment. Anyone can use it at home. No medicines, no massage, no sweating, no baths, no dieting, no discomforts.

Amazing results have been accomplished in seemingly hopeless cases of nervous prostration, arthritis, rheumatism, asthma, insomnia, indigestion, skin and blood disorders. Read the following convincing evidence from just a few of the many sufferers who have found quick relief in Wilshire's "I-on-a-co," then take advantage of the opportunity to try the treatment yourself—absolutely free.

Lumbago Relieved

J. J. HENGEN, 733 N. Orange Drive, Los Angeles (Sept. 9th).—"I-on-a-co" has produced astonishing results in restoring my strength. I can now work all day without tiring, whereas before I could hardly do any work without being immediately fatigued. My general health is much improved and lumbago in my back has been relieved.

Droopy and Arthritis Overcome

MRS. RAY GRIFFIN, 12104 W. 1st St., Los Angeles (Sept. 11).—"I had droopy and arthritis and could hardly walk. Also had indigestion. I tried all kinds of pills, powders and appliances—even had my teeth taken out—but my condition grew worse. began I-on-a-co treatments August 25th. My digestion quickly improved and in a few days became perfect. All swelling and pain has disappeared. I am indeed a new woman."

Nervous Prostration Helped

MRS. A. W. KIMBALL, 1763 Childs Ave., Los Angeles (Sept. 26).—"Having been an active professional and club woman for the last ten years, I suffered a serious breakdown last spring and summer, and found instant help and relief in I-on-a-co."

FREE TREATMENT

Bring a clipping of this advertisement to any of our offices and we will give you a free treatment of Wilshire's "I-on-a-co." Or send for free booklet. To people unable to call at office, we will be glad to send a representative to give a home treatment free.

FREE LECTURE

Mr. Gaylord Wilshire will lecture on Wilshire's "I-on-a-co" and the scientific principles which explain its healing action, every Tuesday 8 p.m. at 681 Commercial Exchange Building, Los Angeles.

You can sit comfortably in a chair and read, during the pleasant ten minute treatments with Wilshire's "I-on-a-co."

Valuable Liquor Cargo is Saved

POLAND ELATED AT WORK OF CONFERENCE

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS) WARSAW, Oct. 20.—Count Skrzynski, Poland's Foreign Minister, back from Locarno, today commented optimistically on the results of the security conference. "Poland's alliance with France has been strengthened by the involvement of all the members of the Locarno conference," he said, "and our relations with England are closer than before the conference. Our agreement with Germany has convinced me that there can be no further talk of territorial changes."

BERLIN LAYS STRESS ON PACT IMPORTANCE

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS) BERLIN, Oct. 20.—The Diplomatic Politische Korrespondenz regarded as the mouthpiece for official quarters, lays stress today on the importance of Locarno arbitration treaties. It contends that under them almost all the stipulations of the Versailles Treaty become subject to arbitration. The number also declares that the German delegation at Locarno were convinced that the expectations of the German people on all essential questions, especially regarding the Rhineland occupation, will be realized.

"Therefore," it adds, "Germany is justified in greeting the Locarno pact as warmly as the other signatory powers."

The Nationalist press is, on the whole, surprisingly moderate in its comments on the Locarno agreements. The skepticism prevailing before publication of the texts this morning has given way to appreciation of the work of the German delegates, especially in obtaining a satisfactory interpretation of Article XVI of the League covenant and also in carrying the point that in the future interpretation of the Versailles Treaty must be subject to arbitration.

Such criticism as is made by some of the more extreme Nationalist papers seems to be based on political exigencies. The Liberal press favors acceptance of the agreements.

GERMAN CABINET APPROVES PEACE PACT

(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) BERLIN, Oct. 20.—Chancellor Luther and Foreign Minister Stresemann apparently have won their battle for the ratification of the Locarno treaty before the Reichstag.

Tonight the Cabinet and President Von Hindenburg placed their seal of approval of the Locarno agreements. The decision was arrived at only after two sessions, during which every word of the treaties and other agreements was gone over and explained by a judicial expert, Herr Gaus, and Foreign Minister Stresemann.

Following the Cabinet session, Herr Stresemann received thirty Rhineland representatives, to whom he disclosed the details of the concessions which Aristide Briand, French Foreign Minister, had promised for the occupied territories.

The nationalists have not yet taken up an official position toward the pact. They will not move as a party until M. Briand's declaration regarding the Rhineland is made. But from all sides it is learned that their protests will not be more than a formality. If that much, when the vote comes in the Reichstag, a majority for ratification is as good as assured.

Iowa Patricide Given Lifetime Prison Sentence

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE) ALLISON (Iowa), Oct. 20.—Warner Vandervoort, 17-year-old son of Rev. R. J. Vandervoort, Parkersburg, Iowa, must spend the rest of his life in State prison for slaying his father on August 6, last. Sentence was passed this afternoon by District Judge C. H. Kelly as the conclusion of a two-day hearing in which the defense presented extensive evidence designed to gain a minimum sentence for the boy. Young Vandervoort will be taken to Fort Madison prison tomorrow.

She discounted the statement of her son that he had been driven to his act by family discord, and also explained the status of the minister's insurance policies to show that Warren could not have shot his father in the belief that he might thereby obtain the insurance money.

"BACK TO THE COUNTRY" with Safety & Profit!

THE life that lures the world to California is not in the big cities, but lies in the rolling foothills of the Southland where the air is clear, the breezes cool, the winters warm and protected from frost.

Men of successful experience are ready to guide you in the selection of a country home, close to the population centers, on good boulevards, where you can grow rare tropical fruits, fine citrus crops and enjoy with safety and profit a comfortable living.

The price of 4 or 5 acres here is the same as a residential site in Los Angeles—yet on these 4 or 5 acres you can have independence! At

1. NORTH WHITTIER HEIGHTS.

THIS magnificent property is located on the hills north of Whittier and but 40 minutes from 7th and Broadway—there are available hundreds of splendid homesites overlooking the San Gabriel Valley with the mountains in the distance. Here the avocado is grown with success and profit, while oranges and lemons thrive in this wonderful district protected from frost. You may select property that is planted or unplanted—the roads are excellent, the water plentiful.

2. LA HABRA HEIGHTS.

NEAR the thriving communities of Whittier and La Habra and only 45 minutes from the heart of Los Angeles—this beautiful property is an ideal spot for the suburban home. On these broad acres the avocado is growing today with great profit. A fine country club is located in the center of the property. Five acres planted here costs no more than a residential site and home in Beverly Hills. Five acres here in five years should produce a comfortable independent income. The view is remarkable—from the mountains to the sea.

3. VISTA.

WHERE the empire builders have fashioned a wonderful domain—located 100 miles south of Los Angeles, 40 miles north of San Diego and 18 miles from the Pacific Ocean, Vista offers tremendous opportunities for those who want to enjoy the profits accruing from California's most fertile land, with abundant water and ideal living conditions—highways and railroads are at hand—then there is still the romance of old California in this district. Here the avocado grows safely and the citrus fruits flourish in abundance. This wonderful property is just being opened to the public at original prices with attractive terms to first buyers.

that's all you need to pay now!

And here's one more advantage about a Hoosier Kitchen. Just $5 down makes it possible! You can enjoy it while you pay for it in weekly payments so small you'll never miss the money!

Install a Hoosier Cabinet!

—and enjoy convenience you can never get in carpenter-made cupboards

Do you know what the very latest is in kitchen beauty and efficiency? It's a kitchen equipped with Hoosier Furniture. Hundreds of the most beautiful new homes in California are planned this way. Architects and builders specify Hoosier equipment for the kitchen as the only real way to get 100% efficiency and the beauty every kitchen ought to have. It stands to reason "home-built" kitchen equipment can't give you what a large factory with necessary machinery can give. Nor can one man build what many experts have spent years to design and perfect. Install a Hoosier cabinet as a permanent part of your kitchen and complete the furnishing with Hoosier storage units, tables, chairs, etc. In this way you can have a kitchen furnished as completely and charmingly as your living or dining room.

Come in and let us show you just what this means, in a score of conveniences and accessories that you could never get in equipment of your own building. And as for beauty—Hoosier furniture is real furniture; artistic in design and finish. Your choice of two-tone grey, white enamel, oak or painted to suit your own color scheme.

A porcelain-top kitchen table like this is an invaluable aid to the housewife. It has 25x40-inch top and convenient drawer. (Chairs not included).

Specially priced, $8.75

LOCAL LAUGHS

Each week The Times produces a film entitled "Local Laughs," consisting of the fifteen best jokes submitted by local people. Weekly prizes are paid of $5, $10, and twelve of $1 each. A list of theaters showing the film, together with rules for submitting jokes, are given daily in a coupon in The Times. Prize-winning jokes, and names and addresses of winners, appear only on the coupon. Jokes involving honorable mention will be given a place of honor on The Times comic page each week-day, and each of these contributors will receive a souvenir of acknowledgment.

Secretary Mellon recommends $290,000,000 TAX CUT
[A tremendous volume of money will flow into new investment channels.]

How will this affect—
(1) Your holdings?
(2) Your income tax?
(3) Tax exempt bonds?
(4) Taxable bonds?

What bonds will appreciate or depreciate in value?
What are the logical investment policies to meet the new conditions?

THE INVESTOR
State Regulation of Public Utilities, as Operating Today, Held Beneficial to Both Public and Industry After Being Tried For Eighteen Years.

the public and also those of the companies.
Current conditions are similar to those prevailing in 1907 and little change is likely. The public wanted then and it wants now gas service, electric service and other forms of public convenience at the lowest possible cost. Utilities, financed by hundreds of thousands of individuals, estates and institutions, knew the sales value of low rates but realized also that extremely low rates would bring a slackening of necessary new capital service and eventually bankruptcy.
"Meaningfully," said Mr. Sloan, "these points of view, these interests, were in conflict. Actually they were not, never have been and never can be. But eighteen years ago the economics and the philosophy of public utility operation were not so much thought about or discussed as they are today. The monopoly principle, now generally admitted to be necessary and beneficial, was then bitterly contested as a means of enabling the utilities to squeeze extra profits out of the defenseless public. The public felt the need of protection against the utilities and the utilities felt the need of protection against the public."
more particularly against some of the municipal officials.
The Public Service Commission, a State body with ample powers, its acts subject to review, was the welcomed solution. That body sets a standard of service to be rendered and sees to it that properties are improved and kept in the best condition, although the companies themselves have seen to that phase without need of urge by the commission.
A prescribed form of accounting must be followed, assuring the public of complete information regarding company affairs. This important step has been further improved on a nation-wide scale. Utility company capitalization is supervised by the various commissions and State legislatures, the commission sees to it that funds raised are spent properly for the purpose authorized.

STOCK PRICE ADVANCE ON FIRM BASIS
Moody Holds Condition of Market Sound; Sees No Signs of Collapse
Moody's weekly review of financial conditions in its current issue says in part:
Both trade movements and stock market swings attain so much momentum that they usually go farther than people expect. While the public is enthusiastic over the rise, ultraconservative men fear that the market is getting into an unsound condition. Probably both the enthusiasm and the fears are unwarranted.
Security prices are not subject to sudden collapse without previous cause or danger signals. On the contrary every collapse of the past has been preceded by genuine inflation—meaning some sort of an overextension of liabilities which was bound in time to produce forced selling of goods or securities.
Admittedly prices are more prone to reactions as we approach a high peak; but before any collapse occurs we may reasonably expect to witness plain evidences of inflation. These evidences are not in sight.
Political conservatism is one of the pillars of strength upon which the market rests. If this conservatism lasts as long as others have, it still has some years to run.

The Clearinghouse
News of Spring Street
Ira A. Manning, representing the Adair Realty and Trust Company of Atlanta, Ga., is in Los Angeles looking for a location, prior to establishing a branch office in this city. Mr. Manning states that the company is the oldest established real estate firm in the United States and the oldest mortgage firm in the South.
Mr. Manning will sell Adair real estate bonds and expects later to participate in real estate financing.
U. S. Royalties Pays
Announcement was made yesterday by the board of directors of U. S. Royalties that the company has declared a 2 per cent quarterly dividend on its stock, payable November 14, to stockholders of record on the 21st inst. A total of $15,000 will be disbursed with this dividend, which is the second since dividends were resumed three months ago.
German Issue Coming
A syndicate of bankers, headed by J. P. Morgan & Co. of New York, has purchased and will shortly offer $1,500,000 of 7 per cent bonds of the city of Heidelberg. No details are available at present concerning the offering.
Heidelberg is one of Germany's richest and most prosperous cities, and is noted for its industrial as well as cultural activities. Over 2500 students are registered at the university and as a tourist center it is well known.
To Raise Commissions
The governing committee of the New York Stock Exchange has adopted amendments to its constitution providing for an upward revision of commissions on bond transactions. These will become part of the constitution if not disapproved by a vote of a majority of the members within two weeks. The changes provide for an increase in the commission rate to the public from $1.50 to not less than $2 per $1000 bond. On business for members of the exchange, when a principal is not given, the rate is raised from 50 to 80 cents per $1000 bond. On business for members, when a principal is given up, the commission is increased from 37 1/2 cents to not less than 40 cents.
Francis Moulton Returns
Francis Moulton, of R. H. Moulton & Co., investment bankers of Los Angeles, has returned from a ten day business trip in the East. He studied the municipal bond market and conditions in that territory, stopping in New York and Chicago.
Leo V. Heiden Here
Leo V. Heiden, vice-president of the bond department of the Bank of Italy, is in Los Angeles for a few days, conferring with local bankers on the financial situation in this territory. He expects to return to his office in San Francisco shortly.
To Address Rotary Club
L. C. Lookley, correspondence counselor of the First National Pacific-Southwest banking group, will address the Rotary Club of Van Nuys at its regular luncheon tomorrow at the Encino Country Club. His subject will be "Selling Bonds."
Will Speak at Bell
Albert A. Joy, manager of the commercial development department of the First National Bank, will address the Kiwanis Club of Bell, Cal., at its luncheon on the 22nd inst. His subject will be "Business Ethics." Mr. Joy is a member of the Los Angeles Kiwanis Club.
Wagoner Back from East
Henry F. Wagoner, cashier of the Los Angeles office of Blair & Co., Inc., has just returned from New York, where he spent several weeks at the home office of the company, working out improvements in methods for his department. Mr. Wagoner visited the Chicago, Seattle and San Francisco branch offices on his return trip.
Dividends Announced
Stockholders of the Western Costume Company of this city have just received dividend checks for the quarter ending the 15th inst. In addition to the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, an extra dividend of 1 per cent was declared on all outstanding preferred stock. This makes a total of 3 per cent for this year to date on the 8 per cent preferred issue.
Appointments Made
The First Securities Company announced yesterday, through John E. Barber, the election by the board of directors of H. C. Barroll as vice-president. The following appointments in the bond department were also announced: F. S. Baer, manager; C. F. Seidel, assistant manager, buying department; and R. H. Parsons, sales manager.
Conduct Pistol Practice
Teams composed of officers and employees from the central office and Los Angeles branches of the Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank will conduct pistol practice on the Los Angeles police rifle range in Elizian Park on Sunday morning, November 1.
The firing will be supervised by Sgt. Moore, range master, and will be in charge of Lieut.-Col. Thomas F. Cooke, United States Reserve, assistant cashier and chief office of the Pacific-Southwest Bank, and Capt. H. C. Underwood, manager of the Pico and Valencia branch.

Dun's Report of Bank Failures Shows Decline
Decreases both in number and liabilities of banking suspensions in the United States are shown for the third quarter of this year, the reductions from the totals for the corresponding period of 1924 exceeding 40 per cent in each case, according to Dun's report for the three months recently ended, against eighty in the third quarter of last year, and the indebtedness of $114,132 compared with $243,322. In the same quarter of 1923 there were eighty-four banking suspensions, involving $24,322, 873.
Geographical analysis of the third quarter's returns shows that the bank suspensions were reported in New England either this year or last year, while there was one suspension in both years in the Middle Atlantic States. All of the other sections disclose numerical decreases, ranging from two on the Pacific Coast to nine each in the South Atlantic States and the Western States. Larger liabilities are shown for the South Atlantic States and the Central Western States, but these increases are much more than offset by the reductions elsewhere, the decrease in the Western States alone being fully $8,000,000.
A comparison of banking suspensions is made by sections for the third quarter of the past three years:

	1923	1924	1925
United States	84	80	80
Atlantic States	13	12	12
Central States	11	10	10
South Atlantic States	14	13	13
Pacific States	16	15	15
Western States	30	28	28

New Financing for Music Firm Expected Soon
Negotiations are under way for financing in connection with an expansion program of Landay Bros., Inc., who recently announced the establishment of three new stores. The financing will take the form of a common stock offering to be made by Bauer, Pond & Vivian, Morgan, Livermore & Co., and Pope & Co.
Landay Bros., Inc., was founded twenty-five years ago by Max and James H. Landay, with an original investment of $1000, and is now handling a business running at a rate of $4,000,000 annually. The company deals in musical instruments and supplies, including pianos, radios, band instruments, phonographs, etc., and has stores in New York, Brooklyn, Newark, Mt. Vernon, Bridgeport, New Haven and Yonkers.
Landay Bros., Inc., were the first dealers to succeed in inducing phonograph companies to record separate selections. According to its officers, the phonograph business, which fell off sharply five years ago, has recently revived. Sales are now keeping abreast with the marked increase in sales of radio equipment, and as a result of new inventions the company anticipates the return of the phonograph to its former eminence.

Bond Men Pay Visit to Palo Verde Valley
The Palo Verde Valley in Riverside county was visited this week by over fifty Los Angeles and San Francisco bond men, who went on a tour of inspection preliminary to the offering of an issue of Palo Verde Irrigation District 4 per cent bonds. The trip was arranged by Alvin H. Frank & Co., Los Angeles, and J. R. Mason & Co., San Francisco, who have underwritten the issue.
The party went to Bithra, the principal town in the valley, by train Monday, spent Monday visiting ranches and inspecting irrigation systems and returned to Los Angeles yesterday.
Included in the party were representatives of the following houses: Banks, Huntley & Co.; Drake, Riley & Thomas; Cass, Howard & Sanford; Southwest Bond Company; Chase, McCabe & Co.; DeFremercy & Co.; Charles E. Kiefer & Co.; and Alvin H. Frank & Co., Los Angeles; Russell, Calvin & Co.; William Cavalier & Co.; Clifford DeLorme & Co.; J. R. An issue of $1,483,000 Longview (Wash.) local improvement district 4 per cent bonds will be offered today by Halsey, Stuart & Co., at 100 and interest to yield 6 per cent. An important feature of the principal and interest on the bonds is guaranteed by the Long Bell Lumber Company, making this a municipal obligation, guaranteed by a private corporation.
The purpose of the issue is an indication of the rapid growth of the industrial site, the Long Bell Lumber Company began in 1921 the erection at Longview of the world's largest lumber-manufacturing plant, consisting of twenty-eight structures, covered by thirty-four acres of roofs. Decks on the Columbia River have been completed and Longview is now a port of call for ocean-going vessels.

Syndicate Buys Waite Phillips Oil of Oklahoma
NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The New York Sun says that the Waite-Phillips Petroleum Company, which at one time was to be consolidated with the Phillips Petroleum Company, has been taken over by a syndicate headed by Blair & Co., Inc. Confirmation of the sale of the property was made at Tulsa, Okla., by Waite Phillips, president of the company which bears his name. While the exact terms of the deal were not disclosed, dispatches from the West stated that Mr. Phillips and his few associates who owned the company received cash for their holdings, estimated to be between $25,000,000 and $25,000,000.
Following announcement of the sale it was reported that the Standard Oil Company of Indiana. The original plan to consolidate the Waite Phillips company with the Phillips Petroleum Company was definitely abandoned because of the failure of bankers to agree on terms.
The Phillips Petroleum Company, because of its large output of natural gasoline, is now being sought by the Texas Company. It was reported it was said that conversations between officials of both companies have been held and other details have been gone over in connection with the proposed deal. The Phillips Petroleum Company is said to be the largest producer in the world of natural gasoline, which is used in blending with gasoline-refined crude oil.

STOCK PRICE ADVANCE ON FIRM BASIS
Moody Holds Condition of Market Sound; Sees No Signs of Collapse
Moody's weekly review of financial conditions in its current issue says in part:
Both trade movements and stock market swings attain so much momentum that they usually go farther than people expect. While the public is enthusiastic over the rise, ultraconservative men fear that the market is getting into an unsound condition. Probably both the enthusiasm and the fears are unwarranted.
Security prices are not subject to sudden collapse without previous cause or danger signals. On the contrary every collapse of the past has been preceded by genuine inflation—meaning some sort of an overextension of liabilities which was bound in time to produce forced selling of goods or securities.
Admittedly prices are more prone to reactions as we approach a high peak; but before any collapse occurs we may reasonably expect to witness plain evidences of inflation. These evidences are not in sight.
Political conservatism is one of the pillars of strength upon which the market rests. If this conservatism lasts as long as others have, it still has some years to run.

Bankers Offer Paving Bonds of Longview, Wash.
An issue of $1,483,000 Longview (Wash.) local improvement district 4 per cent bonds will be offered today by Halsey, Stuart & Co., at 100 and interest to yield 6 per cent. An important feature of the principal and interest on the bonds is guaranteed by the Long Bell Lumber Company, making this a municipal obligation, guaranteed by a private corporation.
The purpose of the issue is an indication of the rapid growth of the industrial site, the Long Bell Lumber Company began in 1921 the erection at Longview of the world's largest lumber-manufacturing plant, consisting of twenty-eight structures, covered by thirty-four acres of roofs. Decks on the Columbia River have been completed and Longview is now a port of call for ocean-going vessels.
The advantages of distribution by water have proved attractive to other large concerns such as the Weyerhaeuser Timber Company, Pacific Straw Paper and Board Company, the Standard Oil Company and other concerns which have already procured locations and are erecting plants there, leading to a steady increase in the city's growth.

'ENDLESS CHAIN' BACKERS SEIZED

Pair Held on Charges of False Advertising

Squad of Detectives Raid Downtown Offices

Thousands Declared Lured by Selling Scheme

The endless-chain idea, as developed and applied here by the Golden State Sales Corporation, struck an unexpected police snag late yesterday afternoon. A squad of detectives, who had spent several weeks in studying the ramifications of the endless-chain hoaxery plan, raided the headquarters of the corporation at 322 to 324 Loew's State Building and arrested two men. The third promoter was "out" at the time but his arrest is expected shortly.

The two men arrested are Joseph Kaufman, who is said to be the head of the corporation, and S. J. Blane, the youthful manager. Ned Blane, the other developer of the plan, is the man sought. Kaufman is charged with false advertising in a warrant issued by the City Prosecutor's office. A similar warrant is out against Ned Blane. S. J. Blane, the manager, showed considerable temper when the officers arrived and was arrested on a charge of interfering with an officer.

THOUSANDS ENROLLED

Uncounted thousands of "men and women in all walks of life" have been enrolled in the chain plan of selling hoaxery by the corporation, according to Joseph Kaufman, manager of the Better Business Bureau, who initiated the investigation.

The corporation's plan of operation was simple but highly effective, Miller stated. It began with the sale of a certificate and three coupons, all for $4, to one individual. This person, in turn, sold three coupons to three other individuals, thus getting a return of $3 on his or her investment. This left the original purchaser with an investment of $1. But if the three persons to whom he or she sold the coupons reported to the corporation and in their turn bought three more coupons each, the original investor would receive five pairs of "tail-fashions" all his valued at approximately $10.

KEYS TO BE LAST OF LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS TO CONFER WITH GOVERNOR

Gov. Richardson yesterday continued his hearing here on the secret parole of Everett A. (Big Hutch) Hutchings, confidence man, recently released from San Quentin. Sheriff Traeger conferred privately with the Governor.

Arrangements were made yesterday for Dist. Atty. Keyes to confer with the Governor in connection with the parole. This conference will be held this morning.

Keyes will be the last of the law enforcement officers here to confer with the Governor, unless others signify a desire to intervene in the investigation.

PLAN WITHOUT END

The plan spread like wildfire, Miller stated, and had no end. School-children, teachers, housewives, clerks, stenographers and many men, believing they had an opportunity to get $10 worth of merchandise for $1, "fell for" the plan. Some received the merchandise, but those whose friends failed to report to the corporation for more coupons to sell to their friends simply lost out unless they paid $4 more to the corporation, thus making their total investment $10, the price of the merchandise, which they were to receive.

DAY ASSERTS REMARKABLE GAINS OF COTTON INDUSTRY PROVE BOON TO CALIFORNIA

Promoters of the cotton industry in this district look with considerable satisfaction on the outlook for the industry, according to J. Dabney Day, president of the Citizens National Bank. He said yesterday that the production of cotton in California has increased 250,000 bales with a money value in excess of $50,000,000.

"During the past twelve years cotton production in the trade territory of Los Angeles," Mr. Day said, "has shown a constant and gratifying increase and we look forward to the future of this crop with the utmost hopefulness. There is little doubt that cotton will take its place among the important factors of economic resource in this district. From a crop of about 10,000 bales in 1912 the production has grown steadily until this year the crop is reliably estimated at 150,000 bales with a money value in excess of $50,000,000. Furthermore we have plenty of undeveloped land for further expansion. In the San Joaquin Valley alone there has been an increase in the past year of 50,000 acres devoted to cotton, and both in this district and elsewhere there are large areas well suited to cotton, and needing only the water to become fertile."

Council Raises Ban on Smoking as Venice Visits

The City Council chamber was crowded yesterday morning with a large delegation of Venice residents who had come to urge the completion at once of the legal formalities required to consolidate the city with Los Angeles.

"To make these Venice men realize that we welcome them to Los Angeles and to make them comfortable and happy," said Councilman Sparks, "I move that the rule against smoking in the Council chamber be suspended."

It was so ordered and the Venice delegation "lighted up."

"Help! help!" exclaimed Councilman Sparks. "Councilman Ash, late of Indiana, is smoking a cigarette. I'll bet it's the first one he ever smoked in his life. Call out the militia!"

SOL GETS HOT BUT RELENTS

Mercury Hops to 90 Deg. in Mid-Day, Later Going Down to 78 Deg.

The sun worked only a half-day shift yesterday in its attempt to make things warmer than usual, relaxing its efforts shortly after noon, according to the United States Weather Bureau.

The official temperature reading for the day was 75 deg. at 8 a.m., 87 deg. at noon and 90 deg. at 12:30, the hottest time of the day. At 5 p.m. the mercury had dropped to 78 deg.

The forecast for today is fair and continued warm weather.

NEW STREET NAMES STIR UP MIX-UP

Folk in West Hollywood So Confused They Don't Know Where They Live

Several thousand residents of a district in West Hollywood really don't know where they live, all because of a street name. This story concerns an attempt, which apparently came out of a clear sky, to change the names of fifty or sixty streets in the district.

The attempt went so far as to actually change the street names on the curbs. In some cases the old names have been painted over to give way to the new ones and in others, the property owners, the old name has been left beside the new name.

FASTER RUN ON SANTA FE IS RUMORED

'Grapevine' Report Says Line Will Test Out Belen Cut-off to Speed Trains

If rumors by way of the railroad "grapevine" are correct, the Santa Fe executives will consider the advisability of faster trains to the Pacific Coast at a time card meeting scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 21, at the Santa Fe Hotel in Los Angeles.

The report originates from the fact that the new time card now under preparation will bring additional trains over the Belen cut-off and materially affect the running time of the four trains now on the line.

The significance of these reports to Los Angeles is that the Belen cut-off, having fewer grades than the line from Albuquerque, N. M., to Los Angeles, Colo., permits faster running. The latter route is now used by most of the Santa Fe transcontinental passenger trains because of the scenic attractions over the Rockies, but the heavier grades force the trains to conform to slower running time. The Belen cut-off is used mostly by the fast freight trains. The report from Vaughn states that the two additional passenger trains will be routed over the Belen line. As railroad men explain the New Mexico story, it is possible that the Santa Fe is considering an unofficial experiment in faster trains to the coast.

Senator Ashurst's bill for the Phoenix project, which has been the subject of much discussion in the Senate, was hit by a veto from the House yesterday.

The bill, which was introduced by Senator Ashurst, provides for the construction of a dam on the Salt River in Arizona, and the development of the project for irrigation and power.

The House voted against the bill, citing the expense of the project and the fact that it would not provide for the needs of the people of Arizona.

This is the largest telephone conduit in the United States, the report said, and the work of installation should be completed this week.

MANY 'CUT' IN NEW BLUE BOOK

Society Directory Provides Interesting Contrasts; Fairbanks Family and Gloria Swanson Fail to Land Places in Register

Dear me, can there possibly be any significance in the fact that the new edition of the "South West Blue Book" is distinctly gray this year? True, it is a slightly bluish gray, but one has to peer to find the blue.

It is quite considerably lighter this year—nothing more "blue" about it. Rather does it favor of much kindly extended democracy. Specifically described on the fly-leaf as a "Society Directory," it is less a "Blue Book" than a "Society Directory."

JURY SILENT IN RIVER MYSTERYOpen Verdict Returned in Inquest on DeathFurther Investigation Into Case RecommendedSlain Youth's Brother Tells of Life at Home

An open verdict, with recommendation of further investigation, was returned yesterday by the coroner's jury at the inquest over the body of James J. Hogan, 21 years of age, who was found pierced by two bullet holes last Sunday in the Los Angeles River bed.

The inquest was held by Deputy Coroner Monfort in the undertaking establishment of Allard and Sons, 111 East Fifty-seventh street, Maywood, as affectionate brother of the slain youth.

His brother had no money and was in the habit of borrowing money from his mother, he said, which would cause him to commit suicide.

He started his hearing when he said last Wednesday night when James failed to return home, his mother came into the room and cried: "My boy's dead! My boy's dead!" Mrs. Hogan later attributed her cry to a "voice" she heard, telling her of her son's death.

Deputy Sheriff Stanley testified to the finding of the body, and Martin H. Page, owner of the Maywood Commercial Company, testified that he sold Hogan the automatic pistol found beside the body. Hogan, he said, bought the gun early last Wednesday morning, and with it a box of cartridges.

"That's the last pistol I've ever seen," stated Page, visibly affected, after the inquest.

Dep. Dist. Atty. Scheinman attended the inquest and stated the District Attorney's office will have further investigation to Deputy Sheriff Stensland, Hunter and Hanley.

Miles Hogan testified his brother was left-handed. The wound, in the head and body, indicated that the weapon which caused death was held on the left side.

Whether Fern Anna Crum smokes cigarettes, as her father says, or doesn't, as her mother avers, is one of the principal points in the divorce suit of Mrs. Anna C. Crum against James A. Crum, described as an Idaho cattleman. Mrs. Crum and her four children live here, because, she asserts, the cattleman made remarks about all of them, including herself.

Fern Anna was on hand yesterday to testify before Judge Gates that she does not smoke, but because of a defect in the service affidavit the case was set over.

Llewellyn P. Marsh is Mrs. Crum's attorney.

It cost Mrs. Florence Hart Allen, 847 South Alvarado street, $5 to powder her nose in a loading zone yesterday.

Mrs. Allen had been summoned into Police Judge Chambers' court by Police Officer Joiner, who said she had stopped her car in a loading zone at Ninth and Flower streets.

"How long did you stop?" asked Judge Chambers.

"Just long enough to powder my nose," replied Mrs. Allen.

"Five dollars," concluded the judge.

A. W. Function Ends Two-Day Convention Here of Circulation Managers' Association

Fifty members of the California Circulation Managers' Association, who supervise the distributing of more than 1,000,000 newspapers in California every day, ended their two-day convention with a banquet at the Ambassador Hotel last night.

Harold Searles of the Hollywood Citizen, the new president of the organization, was introduced at the banquet and was followed by the other officers and members of the board of directors.

They are: Fred Anderson of the San Francisco News, vice-president; H. H. Cahill of the Fresno Republican, chairman; and Robert William McKay of the Santa Ana Register, secretary-treasurer; and W. H. Harrison of the Los Angeles Evening Herald, W. F. D. Brown of the Oakland Tribune, Edwin L. Simpkins of the San Jose Mercury-Herald, George A. Fish of the San Francisco Chronicle, Fred G. Rotmund of the Sacramento Union and Victor Peterson of the Stockton Record, A. E. Crawford of the San Francisco Examiner, W. V. O'Farrell of the San Diego Union and Tribune and Victor Lattimer of the Oakland Post-Enquirer, directors.

Reading of papers dealing with newspaper circulation, selection of officers and selection of San Francisco as the 1926 convention city occupied the final business session of the organization. The entertainment committee of Los Angeles managers in charge of the banquet consisted of A. L. Parker, chairman, and Robert J. Corrigan, Fred Neal and Frank See.

Their entertainment program for the banquet was donated by the West Coast Theaters, Grauman's Million Dollar, Grauman's Metropolitan and Rialto.

Self was given by the Los Angeles newspapers for the visiting members of the association.

FIND COUNTESS
IN CULVER CITY

Santa Monica, Mr. Waterhouse told Chief Cain of Culver City police last night, "because she wished to get away from some of those folk there. She had been getting threatening letters and I loved her and my station in life is humble. We were married at the Salvation Army and came here to live quietly."

Mr. Waterhouse is engaged in selling a paint that will fireproof a house. Mrs. Waterhouse, who came from the Belgian chateau of which new friends have heard her speak sadly and cryptically, has applied her artistic talent to the decorating of some of her neighbors' homes, to the making of beautiful pictures and to the culture of some of the little children in the neighborhood.

It was to newspaper men that Mrs. Waterhouse said she denied her identity. Later, to Chief Cain, Mr. Waterhouse said:

"My wife is the Countess Marode. She left Santa Monica because of those threatening letters."

"I wish to live here in peace and quietness now," Mrs. Waterhouse said.

Her new neighbors knew nothing of her claims to nobility. They knew her as plain Mrs. Waterhouse, a woman of refined nature. To some of Santa Monica's elite, however, the woman was known as of Belgian nobility, whose husband was killed in the war, who, herself, had been wounded while in the service and was a person reduced to humble circumstances by the ravages of the conflict that tore Belgium so cruelly. She was known as an art connoisseur, a woman skilled in medicine and with a physician's degree, a painter and silhouette portrait artist of ability and a lecturer before women's clubs. She was said to have been operated on for removal of shrapnel splinters in Santa Monica hospitals several times. She was said to have been a Belgian secret service operative and to have found in a New York art studio a Rembrandt valued at $100,000 and stolen from her chateau in the Old World. She came here about three years ago, it was said, and in her various doings once was social mistress of a ballroom in Venice.

DENIES CHARGES

Last April she disappeared from Santa Monica, friends recently reported to the Sheriff's office. They recalled that she had told of enemies made in the Belgian secret service who might seek her life.

KLAN IN COURTPrisoner Declares Deputy Sheriff Was "Making Faces" at Him

Trepidation over whether a tall man who kept watching him during the hearing was a Klansman was expressed yesterday by Joseph Washington, a negro, accused of robbery and criminal attack before Justice Blake.

"That's Deputy Sheriff Frank Dewar," replied Justice Blake in surprise. "What makes you think he's a Klansman?"

"He keeps making faces at me," replied Washington.

Washington and L. L. Oberman, a white man, were jointly accused and were held to answer in $30,000 bail each. On the 8th inst., it was testified by C. Cane and Mrs. Irene Tutman, the pair held them up at One Hundred and Twenty-seventh and Main streets, robbing Cane of $125 and then attacking Mrs. Tutman.

In the Elmer Wachels stay out, David Edstrom gets in, the William Wendts stay out. Loren Darton gets in, but Mrs. Leighton stays out. And so it goes.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walter Rothwell appear to have caught the publisher's eye, while Mr. and Mrs. Adolf Tandler missed it. Alas, for Adolf, he was only the city's pet musician before music became really fashionable. But anyway, both Mrs. J. J. Carter and Miss Antoinette Sable are safely in.

PRESS AGENTS HARD HIT

Notwithstanding the superior prominence of our press agent contingent, very few of them have won a Blue Book blessing.

Ham' Clina, designate Mr. William Hamilton Clina, who sees the Orpheum is not neglected, is in. So is Ruth Burke Stephens who specializes in religious promotions, but although the book positively reeks of stylish Johnsons, there isn't a Jackson listed under which the incomparable Joe, who, besides setting Rudolf Valentino right before the world, has written plays and books galore, could be hidden. In fact, outcasts of Marie Armitage and Ham Clina and Ruth, the noble profession has been badly ignored.

But never mind, the clergy don't come off any better. Almes Semple McPherson, Rev. Bob Shuler, Rev. Gustav Briggleb are not in either. Bishops and rabbis fare slightly better.

But really, don't you know, it is rather distressing when even a gray Blue Book is so masterfully selective and alarmingly discarding. Thank heaven I am in, even if Dr. Millikan is left out.

BORAH HITS
COURT PLAN
IN ADDRESS

Tribunal Stated League
Organization Not World
Body as Constituted

(BY A. P. NIGHT WATCH)

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—The Permanent Court of International Justice as at present constituted, is not a world court, but a League of Nations Court, Senator William E. Borah of Idaho declared in an address tonight.

The Senator, who is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, opposed American adherence to the tribunal until it is divorced from the League of Nations and given a foundation of international law which will declare war a crime and provide for bringing to justice fomenters of war.

He spoke to 2000 persons at the Auditorium Theater under the auspices of the Women's Roosevelt Republican Club.

It was the opening broadside of his campaign against the court, and it was the first of several addresses which the club is sponsoring this fall. On Friday afternoon Senator George W. Pepper of Pennsylvania, who is for American adherence under certain reservations, will speak, and next month the club will be addressed by Speaker Nicholas Longworth of Ohio.

Senator Borah asserted the issue was whether the United States would enter a League of Nations court or "an independent judicial tribunal." He recalled that the late President Harding, in a message to the Senate, declared the tribunal should be in fact a world court, and that the United States should enter it only upon equality with other nations.

No State or government not a member of the League can use the court without the League's permission, Mr. Borah asserted. He added that until the United States' adherence was broached there was no denial or question of the League's connection with the court.

Mary M. McCauley, chief of the Omaha tribe, who owns several mines near Lead, S. D., is one of the few Indian chiefs classed as a millionaire.

Rather a shame, I think, that Mayor Cryer should be left out, and Kent Parrott included. Am Keyes and Huren Filia left out—but Thomas Lee Woolwine, Jr., left in.

I can't find poor Dr. Millikan anywhere in the good his Nobel Prize did him. But Mr. and Mrs. Von Kleinsmid are there to provide a tinge of learning. Priceless Lady Lister, who gets a very bit-of-miss deal, Alexander McClure is in, Lewis Coleman Hall is out, Charlie Adams, who makes the landscape lovely, is in, while Mode Wineman who perpetrates it in art photography, is out. Mr. Guernsey Newlin appears to get in as a member of the Friday Morning Club! But Reese and William Llewellyn are offered with the cryptic suggestion, "See John Milner."

The discrimination shown toward the world of art, implies that art is by no means a royal road to society. The Bond Ringers get

Now they say that the mice are overrunning Buckingham Palace. The cat must be away.

BIG-GAME SPORTSMEN
Mighty few of us want to be Stewart Edward White and capture big jungle beasts with our bare hands. But the big game of the world series made most of us big-game enthusiasts.

WET LITERATURE
It is hard to see how there can be a single drop of booze left in this country when one considers the fearful amounts consumed in all the recent novels and magazine stories of American society life.

FORCED MARRIAGES
Young men students at Chaffey are being taught to cook. Thus many a modern girl who otherwise might shy clear away from matrimony may be forced to it later on by the growing paucity of capable domestic help.

LEADING MOTION-PICTURE ACTOR
Though the Prince of Wales seems to spend nearly all of his time traveling, the folks in England never fail to recognize him when he gets home. And why should they, since he gets photographed for the press at least four times a day?

THE RENAISSANCE
According to the best estimates, Santa Barbara has grown a whole lot since the earthquake and her building operations are the talk of the Coast. It may be that the town needed a little shaking up. Great calamities are sometimes blessings in disguise.

HOURLY OCCURRENCES
The detectives who rescued from lynching a motorist who ran down a woman the other day may have prevented a saturation of lawlessness. If we once started lynching motorists for common, every-day occurrences like that there's no telling where we'd stop.

EXPERT TREATMENT
There's good money in the beauty trade. Lina Cavalieri, who was famous as a grand-opera singer, is opening up a shop for the beautification of women. Lina should be a good card for her own line. She showed up fine under the flickers and she knows how to shine up others.

THE REAL THING
Local realtors are now making use of motion pictures to exhibit their wares. One firm has a reel which takes the spectator on a trip over a lot of their properties and gives an even more alluring and accurate view than a personal journey could afford. The enterprising agent can carry a projection machine right into the home of a prospect and give him an eyeful on his own wall. This is reel salesmanship.

OUTLAW WARRIORS
The American aviators who are bombarding the Riffs do not appear to have any friends left outside of their mothers. They have butted into somebody else's war and are said to have blown up numbers of innocent noncombatants. They have not only gone into a game in which they have no proper place, but they do not play according to the rules. If anything happens to them Uncle Sam will send no warships to bring them home. Nor will any of our ensigns be half-masted to their memory. They may be adventurers, but that title is their only monument.

RED TAPE
An Italian soldier who was declared dead during the war, but insists that he is very much alive, is having an embarrassing time. He has married since and the government insists upon paying his "widow" his pension. He has also received a nice medal reciting his good deeds and the battle in which he died. His name stands engraved upon a monument to "our hero dead." In fact, the War Department refuses to concede that he is still alive. He is now making the government testify against itself—because the scurvy income-tax collector not only believes he is alive, but insists upon making the usual collections in the usual harsh way.

AFTER THE SCALPERS
For their own protection the railroads have made ticket scalping a hazardous business. The person who buys the return half of another's passage for a transcontinental journey has a hard time in getting away with it. The system of validating and of checking is worked out with the idea of heading off all imposition. The man who gets by the conductor must needs have a genuine ticket honestly bought. He cannot often get through with the return stub of a ticket sold to another. It is said that no less than eight persons were taken from a single train the other day—all trying to travel on somebody else's ticket—but none succeeding.

THE BOYCOTTERS

Fair play is one of the fundamentals of American life and progress. Equality of opportunity is the heritage of every American citizen; and when unfair tactics are resorted to by any clique, group or organization, whether in sports or industry, the sympathy and support of the public are deservedly lost. That which cannot be acquired in free America by fair means is not worth the acquisition.

No method of opposition is more repulsive to the American idea of fair play in industry than the boycott. The boycott is the essence of unfairness. It is low, cowardly and mean; for it seeks by unfair means to prevent equality of opportunity. It is a threat resorted to because the end cannot be attained by reasonable persuasion. The boycott attempts to win by foul means where fair means have failed.

In the United States there is but a single group that makes use of the boycott to attain its ends: the American Federation of Labor, whose leaders follow the ancient Jesuitic maxim that the end justifies the means. The walking delegates and the propaganda press of the unions affiliated with the A. F. of L. are using the boycott as a weapon with which to club independent industry in Los Angeles and elsewhere in Southern California. What they cannot control they would destroy; such is the essence of their purely material creed. To advocate the principle of "Live and let live" is an offense punishable with expulsion from the unions.

Using the boycott in industry is equivalent to slugging on the football field or spiking in baseball; and it is self-evident that any team or group that can only hope to win by such tactics does not deserve to win.

Recently the propaganda press of the local labor unions printed and circulated thousands of copies of a circular advocating the boycott of a number of local industrial and business concerns. The list included not more than one business in a hundred in Los Angeles operated on the free or open-shop plan and this discrimination is in itself evidence of its unfairness. The propagandists and walking delegates hope, through such means, to force some of the lines included to submit to the tyranny of the closed shop. It is a "boring-in" practice similar to that by which the Reds have been seeking to secure control of American industry and through such control to foment a revolution for the purpose of establishing the dictatorship of the proletariat—a la Moscow.

At its last annual convention the American Federation of Labor officially rebuked that "boring-in" process in relation to the labor unions; but it does not hesitate to adopt Red practices in its campaign against the open shop.

In the boycott list just circulated by the local union-laborers The Times stands at the top. And The Times is proud of that distinction. For The Times is prepared to stand or fall on its advocacy of free American institutions and free American industry. Warnings that such a policy is "bad for business" will pass unheeded; for The Times desires no business that is secured through compromising a principle. As far as the boycotters are concerned, The Times is proud of the enemies that it has made.

It is very possible that the boycotters will find that the list they have circulated will prove a boomerang to their cause; for it serves to show those who believe in the principle of fair play and equality of opportunity who are on their side; and the remarkable progress of Los Angeles industry under the open shop is material proof that the great majority of the citizens of Southern California are with the advocates of free industry and against the boycotters. For the benefit of these The Times gives here in full the list of firms included in the boycott list of the labor-unions:

THE ITCHING PALM

According to an eminent adventurer, Palm Beach is so called because of the itching palm, which is found there in insistent numbers. This observer says that it is possible to journey along the beach and watch the palms itch as they grow. The exciting process may be noted with the naked eye, although it is much more vivid if studied with a strong glass. The fronds of the itching palm are in five-fingered form and come in pairs. The itching is said to be contagious. It spreads from one palm to another and its curious qualities may extend to the casual spectator. It is suggested that for the full protection of strangers from possible annoyance the hotels should put up signs: "Beware of the Itch."

MR. DAVIS SERVES

The violent and fascinating game of lawn tennis has occupied a more or less prominent position in the world's history ever since the day Young Prince Hal of Merrie England thumbed his royal nose in the general direction of the Dauphin of France and that bright young man sent him via express, collect, a box of tennis balls, the inference being that the scion of the British throne was better fitted to make use of these than of cannon balls. So it is only natural that eventually this enormously popular pastime should again achieve international recognition with the choice of Dwight F. Davis to fill the post of Secretary of War in the Cabinet of the United States. Wherever the game of tennis is played—and it is the one universal game which is played under the same rules in practically every civilized country on the globe—Dwight F. Davis is known and respected.

The new Secretary of War was—and is—a very good tennis player himself. He has carried over into his more mature years the same spirit which characterized his play on the courts during his undergraduate days at Harvard. He has retained his interest in the game and, through the donation of the international tennis trophy which bears his name, has done much to cement a spirit of international friendship and good feeling through international rivalry and competition.

Davis himself is a shining example of the spirit shown by the tennis players of the country during the war. As we recollect it, America's First Ten, without exception, was enrolled in the military services before the war had been in progress with America as a participant for three months. Without exception, the best players of the nation enlisted and played their part.

Secretary Davis was one of these, participating as a line officer in the Army, going through several major engagements at the head of an infantry battalion and winning promotion to the rank of major. His work as Assistant Secretary of War has shown him well qualified for the task in hand to which he brings the mature judgment and experience of training in the office and in the field, coupled with the enthusiasm and spirit without which it is impossible to play the grand old game of tennis.

The choice of Mr. Davis is not only justified by his previous record, but is timely recognition of the services performed during war and peace by the devotees of the sport of which he is a distinguished representative.

STOP, LOOK, LISTEN!

So long as there are crossings at the same grade between highways and railroads, so long will there be grade-crossing accidents, but figures recently made public by the Interstate Commerce Commission indicate that, even before such crossings are done away with, it is possible to cut down the loss of life that has been such a distressing figure in American statistics. Greater care by engineers and motorists, as well as by the automobile-driving public, is declared by the commission to have caused a material reduction in the number of killed and injured. Forty-three lives were saved and 296 persons escaped injuries, the commission's figures show, in the first three months of the current year as compared with the corresponding months of 1934.

If the careless drivers were the only ones to suffer, the annual loss from this source might be regarded with less concern, particularly by other and more careful motorists. The grade crossing as a fool-killer undoubtedly contributes to the general safety of the highway; but the price in innocent lives is too high to pay for this incidental benefit. There appears to be no remedy except

SPEAKING OF BLUE CARNATIONS

We are delighted with our lot,
Much joy in life we find,
But pity us, for we have not
The scientific mind.
We see the moon above us ride,
We gaze upon the stars—
And we are duly satisfied
To leave them as they are.

Whatever the scientist beholds,
Straightaway he seeks to change—
And, if he can arrange it, molds
To something new and strange.
A primrose by the river's brim,
Though lovely is its hue—
Is nothing very much to him,
He wants to make it blue.

In roses, yellow, pink or red,
Much loveliness we see,
The man of science shakes his head,
"They should be green," says he.
A flush upon a cheek we view—
But do not analyze;
The scientist observes it, too,
"How girls do paint!" he cries.

We gaze when sunsets gild the scenes
On sea or sky or plain,
The scientist remarks: "This means
That it is going to rain!"
But little learning we have had,
Much wisdom we have missed,
But notwithstanding we are glad
We're not a scientist!

(Copyright, 1935, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

greater care. Railroad officials have been quoted as favoring legislation requiring all motorists to stop, look and listen before crossing tracks. It would be of doubtful benefit; there is no possible method of enforcing it except the stationing of a policeman at each crossing and that is impracticable. The penalty already existing is heavier than any the law could impose on reckless drivers. Further, such legislation would, in effect, relieve the railways of their share of the responsibility.

In the meantime, the campaign for grade separation should be pressed. To eliminate all the grade crossings will cost a staggering sum. It will not be accomplished in this generation, but that is no reason for not eliminating as many as the public and the railroad purse will permit.

But greater care, as the Interstate Commerce Commission's figures show, can accomplish something, and still greater care more. The average time saved by beating a train at a grade crossing, where the effort is successful, has been estimated at fifteen seconds. It is evident the time lost when the effort is unsuccessful runs from weeks and months to eternity. Considered as a sporting proposition, the odds are heavy against the chance-taker.

THE LIGHTS OF 100 YEARS
The whole history of lighting, almost, is told in the changes made in the first lighthouse built by the United States as an independent government. It's at Cape Henry, at the entrance of Chesapeake Bay.

When the United States finished the lighthouse it used fish oil. That was in 1793. Sperm oil was substituted in 1810. Our whale fisheries began to decline, and other oils were sought, first rapeseed or colza oil and later lard oil. Then we began to realize our wealth in petroleum, and kerosene was used. In 1810 a great improvement was made. Wick lamps were discarded and vaporized kerosene, with an incandescent mantle, was installed. But it lasted only a dozen years, when an electric incandescent lamp was substituted.

There's a whole history of illuminants in 121 years: Fish oil, whale oil, colza oil, lard oil, kerosene, kerosene gas, electricity.—[National Business.]

LETTERS TO The Times

Gas Warfare

PRESIDIO OF SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] An editorial in the Los Angeles Times of the 10th of October, under the heading "Is Gas Warfare Humane," has just come to my attention. It has been my business for more than eight years now to know as much as possible about chemical warfare. I commanded the First Gas Regiment throughout the war, was in command of Edgewood Arsenal, our chemical warfare establishment, for three years and am now just back from nearly two years in Europe, where I made a special study of chemical warfare.

I feel that I am in a position to present certain facts, based on knowledge and experience, which will do much to clear up the uncertainty surrounding this important question.

The spirit of your editorial is fair and is in keeping with what I have been anxious to see occur for a long time. If this question is brought out in the open and analyzed on its merits there can be no question but that chemical warfare will be found to be a logical development of the science of war and a vital element of our national defense. Your editorial helps in this good work.

I can assure you that the humanitarian side of chemical warfare has not been overlooked. A weight of authoritative evidence has become available which makes it possible to draw positive conclusions.

The official report of the Surgeon-General of the United States Army for 1930 gives the data on our war casualties. These may be summed up briefly as follows: While approximately 35 per cent of all our casualties were due to gas, less than 2 per cent of these casualties resulted in death; whereas of the remaining 75 per cent of casualties caused by other weapons more than 34 per cent of these casualties resulted in deaths.

The testimony of medical authorities who have had experience with gas cases is overwhelming that there are no serious after effects from gas. This testimony is available in the office of the chief, Chemical Warfare Service, Washington, D. C., and it supports the testimony of Dr. Albert F. Francis before the Committee of the Senate on Investigation of the United States Veterans' Bureau, a copy of which is inclosed. I know it is wholly wrong to say that gas caused men, as a result of their gasping, to suffer from lingering and disabling diseases.

Anyone with any real knowledge of chemical warfare can say that statements regarding the slaying of the population of New York in ten minutes or ten hours are gross and vicious exaggerations. If we should neglect our air forces and cease our chemical warfare work it would be possible for an enemy to disrupt the activities of a city in ten minutes with gas that is high explosive, but even here it would be done with far less loss of life and with limited material destruction.

E. J. ATKINSON,
Major, Chemical Warfare Service.

For the Benefit of Both

AGUA CALIENTE DE BACA (Sinaloa, Mex.) Oct. 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have read the letter of Gen. Alvaro Obregon, published in The Times of September 27, under the caption of "Hands Across the Border," with great pleasure. Gen. Obregon has the right idea for developing the great resources of this West Coast of Mexico by co-operation with the people of California, who have worked wonders in California when its natural resources were not so favorable as these of this west coast, and now that the people of this country invite them to co-operate with them in the development of these resources they ought to improve the opportunity and accept the invitation and assist these people to form another California just across the border, and here they will find a hearty welcome and good treatment by all.

They can bring the necessary capital and experience and teach these people how to work together, build up a great industrial empire for the exchange of commerce between the two sections, with benefit to themselves, the people of this country and the whole of California.

WILLIAM V. LANPHAR.

RIPLING RHYMES

HARD WORK

I marvel when my neighbor, Dave Doodad, is in view; he's doomed to heavy labor, that's true, the bone and the marrow. Each day I see him travel, serene and unafraid, to shovel sand and gravel where concrete walks are laid. He toils for hours together without a pause for rest; his hands are tough as leather and bulging is his chest. Sometimes he wheels a barrow along a runway high; it's dangerous and narrow, if he should fall he'd die. And when the lights are burning and evening kettles boil, I see this man returning, quite jaunty, from his toil. He whistles as he teeters upon his homeward way, saluting Mike and Peters with badinage quite gay. And as the eve advances he dons his Sunday clothes and goes to long-drawn dances or to the movie shows. I, too, have wrought and striven throughout the long, long day; much labor I have given to writing ode or play, or doing his Sunday clothes and going to long-drawn dances or to the movie shows. I, too, have wrought and striven throughout the long, long day; much labor I have given to writing ode or play, or doing his Sunday clothes and going to long-drawn dances or to the movie shows. In addition to the somewhat sardonic statement in the note, Hughes said: "I am writing this on my unjerked clothes may fall on my darling wife and family."

According to police, Hughes left his family Monday night in their home at 613 Heliotrope Drive, and obtained a room at the house where his

Artistic Value in Advertising Designs Urged

Advertising men have the power to raise the cultural standard of America by encouraging commercial artists to create beautiful advertisements, declared Charles W. Duncan of San Francisco, in a talk yesterday before the Advertising Club at the Biltmore.

At the request of President Irvine Smith, members of the club contribute generously to the music side of life, he said.

FLASHES

FOX TO EXPAND

SHEEHAN, RUDOLPH ARE

HERE TO SUPERVISE

By Grace Kingsley

That the Fox Film Corporation will expand tremendously in its activities during the next several months was the announcement forthcoming from the Fox Studios yesterday.

Winfield Sheehan, the astute and popular vice-president and general manager of the Fox company, has arrived on the West Coast, accompanied by Gerald K. Rudolph, head of publicity and exploitation for all the Fox productions. Rudolph has been with the Fox organization for several years, previous to which he held editorial positions on various important newspapers, including that of managing editor of the Buffalo Enquirer during a period of three years.

Various big directors are to be signed by Fox, according to the announcement of Rudolph. Already, he stated, F. W. Murnau, the German director who made "The Last Laugh," has been signed for a period of one year with an option on his further services. Murnau will arrive here in February. It is certain yet what story he will direct.

Many important books and plays will be purchased for the use of the company, but no stories, said Mr. Rudolph, will not be considered for production. Among other stories which will be filmed is "One Incredible Purpose," by A. S. M. Hutchinson.

"Fox intends," said Rudolph, "to launch the biggest exploitation campaign ever put out for a picture on behalf of Jack Ford's 'Three Men in a Boat,' which it is expected will far surpass Ford's former picture, 'The Iron Horse.' Mr. Fox and Mr. Sheehan have prodigious faith in this picture and in the genius of Ford."

Theatrical enterprises of the Fox company include the erection of several new picture palaces throughout the country. Added to the picture exhibitions will be a series of grand opera tabloid presentations, which will travel the Fox circuit of houses. The old Academy of Music on Fourteenth Street in New York, owned by Mr. Fox, is to be renovated and when it is the home of opera, will be reopened as a picture palace, preserving tradition by giving the grand opera tabloid presentations above mentioned. Another very large house is being built in Bronx; still another theater is being built in Chicago, and ground has been purchased in Buffalo for another large house.

Beyond what has already been announced, no details concerning the large theater which is to be built here at Seventh and Figueroa are yet ready for publication. This theater is a certainty, however.

Concerning production activities, many big pictures are to be produced, and in addition the short-subject activity is being continued as they are proving very popular. The "Van Helsing" stories, the "Helen" series, which are being produced by the Fox company, are proving tremendously popular. The growing demand for these short-reel pictures, says Rudolph, is such that during the present year more of them were sold during the first two months than during all last year.

Travelogues in the form of Fox Varieties are also being increased in number. Eight cameramen are now in remote parts of the earth, including Burma, India, Alaska, South America, and other places, filming out-of-the-way peoples and localities.

"Fox is making no production in New York," says Mr. Rudolph, "nor does he intend to so far as present plans are concerned. He thinks that California is the only place in which to produce pictures. This is my first trip to the west coast, but I am much struck with the truth of his opinion."

No pictures will be made abroad, either. Since "Nero," Fox has been disquieted with efforts to produce pictures in any country except the United States.

Mr. Sheehan and Mr. Rudolph are to take a trip to Arizona, where they will be in charge of the production of "The Golden Strand," adapted from Peter B. Kyne's story, "The Rugged Trail."

Chorus Quota Almost Filled

By Josephine Heintz

Auditions for the newly-organized permanent chorus of the Philharmonic Orchestra have been progressing so satisfactorily and with such success that the quota of 200 voices will probably be filled at the two remaining auditions to be held Thursday and Friday nights at 7 o'clock at the Philharmonic Auditorium.

We are giving young voices the preference," says Squire Coop, director of the chorus. "In an endeavor to impart the freshness and vigor that only youth can give, in the future we shall accept only young voices. We have no desire to draw our membership from any of the splendid singing clubs in the city. We want them to remain unaffected by us, serving their own purposes as they have in the past. We are not looking for an attached talent which all indications point to being abundant in the vocal studios and colleges and elsewhere. With these fresh voices and young, open minds, we shall try to create a high efficiency in ensemble singing."

The chorus is now being extended to the singing world of our city as it has to the orchestra. "Everything in the chorus," says Squire Coop, "is being done in a most efficient manner. It is not only a high efficiency in ensemble singing, but it is also a high efficiency in the singing of the chorus. It is not only a high efficiency in ensemble singing, but it is also a high efficiency in the singing of the chorus."

RETHBERG CONCERT

NEW OPERA STAR OPENS

By Edwin Schallert

Elizabeth Rethberg, the first of the visiting musical artists to be heard here this season, sang to a large and enthusiastically responsive audience last night at the Philharmonic Auditorium. Her program was the initial one of the Philharmonic—the Beethoven series—and it was also her first introduction to the great majority of her hearers.

Miss Rethberg, of course, is noted as an operatic singer. She has been with the Metropolitan for several seasons, following rather distinguished success in Europe. She has rated one of the youngest of the more famous singers, and she fully sustains this impression, for there is certainly nothing in the conventional nature of her voice that suggests youthfulness. The first reaction, indeed, that she calls forth is one of spontaneous and delighted approval.

A recent instance of her voice is the most distinguishing qualification that she offers as a singer in recital—this, of course, in addition to an unusual personal attractiveness. The first reaction, indeed, that she calls forth is one of spontaneous and delighted approval.

Altogether, therefore, her first concert offered much of interest and the effect was enhanced to the high degree both by the general excellence of her program, and the very alluring quality of many of her song interpretations. The first three numbers, of purest classic style—particularly the Mozart aria from "Susanna"; a lullaby, "Le Repon"; by Beethoven; the Grifone song, "By a Lonely Forest Pathway"; and several in the German group, like the tragic "Gretchen am Spinnrad," made the most telling appeal.

Smooth, rather distinguishing style Miss Rethberg also has in her singing. It adds materially to the impression that she has made, for her singing has been exceptional. She also seems, with very slight exception, to have marked each note with a precision characteristic of her work—and that in a way is a rather serious fault, for the emotion of her songs, and their underlying meaning, is as well projected as their musical significance. There is that mood of contact between singer and audience that is perfectly desirable. The feeling is that her personality is least in an interpretation—does not quite reach out to the listener.

In view of what she offers of voice, it is regrettable that this other quality is missing—at least in recital. She may not, of course, have been singing in the most auspicious circumstances, though I rather imagine she achieves her most effective appeal in one of her operatic recitals. This is not to deny the fact that she is quite successful in the latter; it is merely that in recital, a trifle short of expectation—in one might say—artistic, though she has great deal of work in the repertoire of songs. Outside of that one possible drawback she is a singer that merits a very unusual attention.

Miss Rethberg brought with her a splendid accompanist in Nicolai Mednikoff. He was very successful in the quality of his work at the piano, and also in his announcements of songs she was to give for encores, though for different reasons.

The Recitative and Aria of Lila, by Debussy, very well done; "Well to the woods and Gather May," by Brahms, dramatically good, and the "Birds of a Feather," by Schubert, were among other musical numbers, besides those already mentioned, on Miss Rethberg's program.

By the way, Miss Rethberg's program to be presented on Friday afternoon and Saturday evening of this week at the Philharmonic Auditorium, as she is a pupil in orchestration of the orchestra's eminent conductor, Walter Henry Rothwell.

The Beethoven masterpiece, his symphony No. 8, with its fateful knocking theme, suffering anxiety and triumph, will be fully discussed and the reasons for its rich and dramatic quality will be made clear to the most casual listener. Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream" Scherzo with its entrancing melody, and the characteristic folk songs are to be played.

Lectures such as these which precede each symphony pair are a stimulation to creative listening and increase tenfold the enjoyment of the orchestral programs so ably arranged by Mr. Rothwell. Some study, and especially if well directed as these symphony studies of Miss Heintz's are sure to be, is necessary for adequate appreciation of the concert.

WARING'S ORCHESTRA TAKES UP NEW ABODE

Waring's Pennsylvanians will move, bag and baggage tonight, after finishing their engagement at the Million Dollar Theater, where they have played for eight weeks in the prologue to "The Freshman," and will take up quarters at the Metropolitan Theater.

Frank L. Newman, managing director, announces that the engagement of the famous collegiate syncopators, starting next Saturday at the Metropolitan, will be their final appearance in California.

The Waringians are planning to make this last program their finest, according to Fred Waring, leader and organizer.

SECOND MONTY BANK'S COMEDY BEGUN AT FBO

With Joseph Henabery behind the camera, Howard Eastbrook has started his second Monty Banks production at the F.B.O. studios, "Play Safe," the title of the new story, in which the dapper little comedy star will be featured, and Pauline Garon will be the leading feminine role.

Would Arrest Two Dairymen
for Cattle TheftWork Clever Ruse on Officers at Ontario

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

ONTARIO, Oct. 20.—Probable action looking to the extradition from Holland of Peter Verburg and John Buys, former Archibald-avenue dairymen wanted here on a charge of embezzling fifty-five head of Holstein cattle valued at $10,000 from the Chino Land and Cattle Company, with headquarters at 111 West A street, was today with the receipt of word that supposed companions of the pair are now known to be in the Netherlands.

According to a letter just received from her father by a woman residing on a local dairy ranch, whose name is withheld, Mr. and Mrs. Richardson Van Delft and their grown son, Richard, Jr., are supposed to have left here several months ago in company with Verburg and Buys, following the asserted embezzlement, have been seen in Kakwik, village on the North Sea coast in Holland, and authorities believe that the two wanted men have also returned to their native land.

The asserted embezzlement was cleverly planned and carried out last summer. After leaving the valuable purebred herd from the Chino concern, Verburg and Buys are said to have employed truck drivers to carry away the Holstein cows during the night and to have substituted a herd of "scrub" cattle, which they had purchased for a small amount of money. The substitution prevented discovery of the alleged embezzlement until the Hollanders had had a chance to make good their escape. From here the pair are believed to have gone to Mexico, whence they are thought to have sailed for Holland.

Provide Funds
for Good Roads
National Meet

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 20.—City Commissioners today appropriated $1000 to be used for promotion of the national good-roads convention to be held in this city in May of next year. Machinery used in the construction of roads will be placed on exhibit in the plaza of the Municipal Auditorium Building, while the building itself will be made for programs and public speaking.

J. A. Roundtree, director-general of the association, with George B. Dickinson, vice-president of the association and chairman of the committee of the Santa Monica-Ocean Park Chamber of Commerce, are expected to arrive here today. Dickinson is secretary of the local body, appeared before Commissioners, outlining just what has been done to date in connection with the convention, which the convention was being presented to the people, not only in California, but Eastern States.

During his stay in California, Director Roundtree has been speaking in the different Southern cities, inviting members of the civic associations to attend the convention. Mr. Dickinson, the local chamber secretary, and Herman Michel, president, accompanied the executive on the tour.

Present plans announced by Mr. Roundtree include a trip to San Francisco, after which he will return to headquarters of the association in Birmingham, Ala.

Need Pickers
for Tulare's
Cotton Crop

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 20.—Fully 500 cotton pickers are needed at once in Porterville district, according to word from the free employment bureau of the Porterville Chamber of Commerce. Peak of the harvest is just being entered and at least 500 or more men are needed badly for this work, which will last probably six weeks.

Average yield in this section is a bale and a half per acre, which makes good picking. Growers are paying 1 1/2 cents per pound for pickers. Records have been kept up in the Poplar country west of here of well over 500 pounds a day by experienced pickers, while many go over 400 pounds, and near the 500-pound mark.

ATTRIBUTE FIRE
TO INCENDIARISM

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

ONTARIO, Oct. 20.—A fire of supposed incendiary origin which, last night, wrought damage estimated at between $2000 and $2500, when destroyed a barn in East A street belonging to Samuel H. Gardner is being investigated today.

The fire which destroyed the structure was the second to be discovered there within a period of three days. On the first occasion, the timely arrival of the owner and the assistance of neighbors prevented damage. This time the blaze had gained such headway when discovered that the Ontario Fire Department was powerless to check its spread. Destroyed with the barn were a $1500 tractor partially covered by insurance and a quantity of hay.

Junior Chamber of Commerce Favors Annual Event to Advertise Community

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

SANTA ANA, Oct. 20.—The need of some distinctly civic entertainment to attract visitors to Santa Ana during the winter, much in the same manner as Pasadena Tournament of Roses and the San Bernardino Show function, was stressed at the meeting last night, in Ketter's Cafe, by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The matter was broached by Elmer, a figure of Mr. Civic Pride, ten feet high, in a parade, which was predicted to attract attention from the entire Southern California. The Junior Chamber of Commerce, which is a civic organization, would prove an excellent advertising medium for Santa Ana. It was said that further announcement concerning the plans, which at the present are distinctly in the embryo state, would be made soon.

Experts Seek Chicken That Will Lay Five Years
Before Quitting

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)

ROSCOE, Oct. 20.—Now that poultry experts have bred up White Leghorns here to the highest of egg productivity, they are turning their attention to the building up of a breed of hens that will lay for five years, instead of the second season.

Poultry breeders in Los Angeles county will assemble at the N. B. Herman ranch in Ora Vista, between Roscoe and Sunland, tomorrow afternoon, at which time all phases of chicken and egg production will be discussed. Chief of these will be the matter of increasing the longevity of the average White Leghorn hen.

Experts who will be in charge of the conference assert that if a hen can be bred that will lay continuously for five years, it would be a high productive rate, one covered by poultry and egg raising will be decreased 50 per cent. Hundreds of San Fernando Valley chicken growers are scheduled to attend tomorrow's gathering.

Ninety Years

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

POMONA, Oct. 20.—David Hawkins, for forty-three years a resident of Pomona, quietly passed away at noon today in his home at the corner of Rebecca and Sixth streets, at the age of ninety years.

Deceased was a member of the G. A. R. and funeral services are to be held in his home. He was survived by a daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Clancy, a grand-daughter, Mrs. Luther A. Nichols of Berkeley, and two great-grandchildren.

LARGE BEAN YIELDS
REPORTED AT ZELZAH

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)

ZELZAH, Oct. 20.—M. Fellows, one of the leading members of the Zelzah Chamber of Commerce, today finishing a survey of the baby lima bean acreage in the vicinity of Zelzah, reports several ranches that have made top-top yields this season. One field on Parthenia street, west of town, has threshed twenty-two 100-pound bags to the acre, each bag when sold in the market bringing $12.

The yield reported from this field is enormous when it is known that the average baby lima bean acre yield this year is about 10 to 12 bags to the acre. Last year, 15,000 acres were planted to baby lima beans in the Zelzah section this year, Mr. Fellows reports.

IDENTIFIES SON'S BODY
Boy Killed at Glendale Ran Away From Parents'
Home in Anaheim

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

ANAHEIM, Oct. 20.—The youth whose life was snuffed out by a railroad train in Glendale Saturday as he was trying to "hop" a train was a runaway Anaheim boy, Roy Holmes, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Holmes of 1114 West Center street.

SHORTAGE
IS ACUTE

Grape Growers of Kern in Appeal to Railroad Men to Rush Assistance

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 20.—In an effort to assist in preventing a $500,000 loss in the Shafter district alone this season, because of a pressing car shortage, the Bakersfield Exchange Club today passed resolutions asking the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railroads to lend efforts toward an immediate remedy. Rev. William Mullen of Shafter was a guest of the club, and explained the seriousness of the impending danger.

Rev. Mullen declared that if the grapes and other crops now ready for shipment could not be moved, a frost, similar to one that came nine days earlier last year, would mean a $500,000 loss will result in the Shafter district alone. The speaker stated that the car shortage now being experienced here does not exist in the districts around Los Angeles, and he urged the people of this district to feel that the discrimination is not justified.

The father declared that his son left home early Saturday, leaving a note asking his parents not to worry. The parents did not see him again. A number of signatures were taken on a petition to the railroad men, and the father to go to the Glendale funeral parlors.

City Against Manager Form of Government

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 20.—The City-Manager form of government continues as a source of argument in Porterville. Petitions are being circulated asking the Board of Trustees to submit the matter for a referendum vote.

Trustees recently passed an ordinance calling for establishment of the office of a City Manager. The project has been agitated for about a year, having come up first last fall when a number of signatures were taken on a petition to put the city government on a business basis.

The proposal was heavily defeated in a referendum vote. The ordinance recently drawn up and passed by the Trustees is similar to the one defeated last fall. A number of signatures were taken on a petition to put the city government on a business basis.

Today's discussion of candidates was conducted in the afternoon, while the city hoped against hope that action would finally follow the two months' struggle. That had in mind the whole election will apparently provide a balance of power on the Board. The Board has stood divided since the election of 1923, ever since Simpson resigned.

Today's meeting was held only when Director Hiram Wadsworth refused to accompany the other Directors on a proposed trip to an improvement project on Grand street. Wadsworth declared that Director Carl H. Grady, who promised him that he would elect a Director today, and announced that he would not leave the room until the matter was settled.

The secret session had lasted for approximately an hour, when the effects of the vote on the public meeting room were declared. The meeting adjourned until next Tuesday, with the seventh member still unselected.

Tries to Pay
Taxes Before
They Are Due

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)

ANAHEIM, Oct. 20.—Prompt payment of taxes is regarded as one of the essentials of good citizenship, but it remained for an Anaheim business man to upset all traditions by attempting to pay his taxes before they were due.

Within an hour after Edward B. Merritt, Anaheim city clerk, had mailed the 1935 tax bills, G. W. Trask, merchant, appeared at the clerk's office with a check in full settlement of his share of the city's municipal business.

But owing to the fact that the taxes were not legally due until today, Merritt was forced to decline the early payment. That is the first time, according to the city clerk, in his many years of experience, that payment of taxes has been tendered before they were due.

Taxpayers of Anaheim have been called upon this year to pay $133,254.71 toward the upkeep of the city. That amount is in addition to $6625 already collected by the city treasurer on unsecured personal property.

Last year $128,251 was collected as property taxes and $6625 on unsecured personal property. The increase this year was brought about by the incorporation of the industrial site and other additional land in the north end of the city, which appears for the first time this year on the tax rolls. The rate this year is 8 cents lower than last.

WED AT SANTA BARBARA

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 20.—A. Lester Best, well-known Los Angeles yacht architect, and Miss Sophia Lorraine Bauman, also of Los Angeles, obtained a license to wed from Clerk C. A. Hunt this noon. He gave his age as 46, and his bride to be as 23. Mr. Best, with Charles B. Warren, had charge of the yacht regatta held last summer.

NEW LAND
NOW OPEN
AT HARBOR

Railroad to Sell or Lease
Locations for Industries at Long Beach

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

LONG BEACH, Oct. 20.—Some 1600 acres of Long Beach Harbor lands owned by the Union Pacific Railroad system are to be thrown open to industries here, it was announced today by R. E. Robertson, assistant traffic manager of the railroad company. Industries may either buy or lease the harbor lands and use the lands for their own purposes, or the railroad company will develop the lands for developing railroad freight and tonnage, it was announced.

The building up of an industrial district adjacent to the ocean front in Long Beach is a key move of vital importance to the Union Pacific, Mr. Robertson said. He has just completed a trip of inspection here to familiarize himself with harbor conditions.

"The Union Pacific will be ready to proceed with the industrial development of the harbor as soon as the cutoff right of way for its line into the harbor is definitely settled. We will be able to lay out the harbor area in a very short time," he said.

"As the owner of 1600 acres of valuable harbor industrial property here, the Union Pacific is necessarily interested in expansion and a development program in Long Beach."

Business Men
Meet to Finance
Hotel Project

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 20.—Prominent hotel and business men of Los Angeles and this city will gather tomorrow evening in the Santa Monica Athletic Club to arrange for the completion of a $1,000,000 hotel project here.

The meeting will be brought to order by T. H. Dudley, well known banker of the city. Financial aid to the extent of $150,000 is required before the project can be completed. It is estimated that the hotel will cost $1,000,000 and will employ 1000 men.

Plans for the building are now being prepared by Los Angeles architects and a site has been chosen. It is reported.

NURSERYMEN MEET
Convention in Pasadena Attracts
From Entire State

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

PASADENA, Oct. 20.—Seventy-five members of the California Association of Nurserymen, representing nearly all parts of the State, gathered in Pasadena today for the annual convention of the organization. Following two sessions tomorrow, the convention will close on Wednesday.

The meeting opened today with an address of welcome to the delegates delivered by Harold B. Landroth, president of the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce.

The chief discussion of the afternoon centered around the establishing of credits and accounting systems among nurserymen. The future of the nursery industry was strongly urged by Herbert A. Wheeler, president of the Southern California Nurserymen's Association, who told the delegates the benefits of definitely established credit.

Discussions of various problems confronting the delegates followed addresses by H. Plath of San Francisco, president; Fred T. Smith of Los Angeles, secretary; and C. K. Grady and R. D. Hartman, superintendent of nursery service, who spoke to the delegates on the subject, "Mealy Bug Control."

Federal quarantines, recent developments in insect control, transportation problems and finances will come before the convention during its two final sessions tomorrow.

USE RADIO TO ASK
SPEAKER TO BANQUET

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 20.—A radio request for a speaker at a special dinner of the Kiwanis Club of Phoenix, Ariz., was received by Admiral A. H. Robertson, commander of the U. S. Navy district here today.

The radio asks that Capt. H. F. Purcell, commanding officer of the U. S. S. Arizona, come to Phoenix to speak to the Kiwanians on Navy Day, the 27th inst. The request was referred to the commander-in-chief of the Battle Fleet.

TO OPEN NEW ROAD

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)

BURBANK, Oct. 20.—The announcement that an appropriation has been made for an extension of the road through Seminole Springs section to the beach, providing another outlet for the San Fernando Valley, also gives recognition to Mr. C. W. Bae's efforts to develop this highway through whose efforts county backing for this highway was secured.

The new road will be known as Backus Highway and will serve as a direct outlet for the upper part of the valley and will be welcome to an increasing population in that section.

PROMPT TAX PAYMENT

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

HANFORD, Oct. 20.—If prompt payment of taxes is a question of prosperity, Kings County is making a good showing. Yesterday, the first day for payment of taxes this year, $15,000 was taken in at the office of County Tax Collector Houston.

Another noticeable feature is that 80 per cent of those paying locally or by mail had both first and second installments.

JACK TAR OF NAVY TO GET NEAT OUTFIT

Snappier Clothing With Higher Prices Announced
for New Issue

Uncle Sam's sailors will pay more for their clothes after November 15, next, according to an announcement just made, but offsetting the grief accompanying the report of an increase in cost is the fact that the gobs, in uniforms conforming to standard regulations, will look snappier and his clothing will be of better material.

Heretofore, inspectors have failed to keep the clothing anything like uniform, with some serge, some capcloth, some flannel and some of a material similar in texture to gunny sacking, resulting in an unsightly appearance when a division was lined up for inspection.

Fleet commanders have long been endeavoring to get a uniform of standard make, color and uniform material. That their efforts have not been in vain is seen in the recent report to supply depots.

New recruits are hit with the advance in price of clothing, the $100 allowance for clothing being necessary to obtain the initial outfit. Of the old issue, the initial outfit cost about $50, the recruit drawing on the remaining $50 of his allowance as he chose.

Overcoats of the new issue will be $6.75 more than the old, or $21.25. The blue dress jumper, formerly $2.75, will be $7.35, and the blue dress trousers are $4.10 higher in price.

The old wide collar has been done away with and the overcoat is of better material and manufacture to a better design than the old issue. The design is slightly changed and in addition to better materials they are fast colors. The cloth of the new trousers is also an improvement over the old issue.

TRIO HURT IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

Peddler Suffers Broken
Back in Auto Smash-up;
Girl and Boy Struck Down

Three persons, including two children, were seriously injured in automobile accidents yesterday afternoon.

Joe Fox, 22 years of age, a peddler living at Third and Fremont streets, suffered a broken back when his auto and a car driven by Richard B. Smith, 5466 Ninth avenue, collided at First and Fremont streets. Fox's car, according to Police Officer Connelly, turned over twice. Fox was taken to the Receiving Hospital in a critical condition. Smith was uninjured.

Mary Provo, 6, who lives at 3221 Roseview street, was struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. Ethel Dabell, 613 1-2 Cypress avenue, in the 400 block on Cypress. The child was taken to the Receiving Hospital with a fractured skull.

Winston Hopston, 12, 2412 Budlong avenue, was riding a bicycle when struck by an auto driven by George F. Williams, 228 1-2 West Eighty-third street, at Jefferson avenue and Kansas street. The boy was taken to the General Hospital. He may have a fractured skull.

Victims of Mail Hold-up Identify Sammy Shapiro

Sammy Shapiro, alias Sandberg, indicted as a member of the Santa Fe avenue mail robbery gang, yesterday identified the three postal men who were on the truck on the 5th inst., as one of the robbers.

Shapiro was brought back to Los Angeles Monday from Kansas City, where he had been arrested. He will be arraigned before Federal Judge James next Monday with the four men now held at the County Jail.

Search for Mrs. Dorothy Teacoma and Harry Burke still is being conducted by police and Federal agents.

OPERA CLUB PROGRAM

Three One-Act Dramas Set For Saturday Night

Of notable interest will be the drama program to be presented Saturday evening under the auspices of the Los Angeles Opera and Fine Arts Club at the clubhouse, Menlo avenue and San Marino street.

This will be the initial event of the season given by the drama department of this organization, which through this activity is endeavoring to further the little theater movement.

The program will begin at 8:15 o'clock and will include three one-act plays, "The Curtain Rises," by Anne Murray; "Present Day Courtship," by Roland Bottomley; and "I Want to be Happy," by Tipton Lindsey Brasier.

Mrs. J. T. Anderson, president of the Los Angeles Opera and Fine Arts Club, has announced that the program scheduled for this season by the drama department will be of exceptional merit.

GIRL LOSES FREEDOM FOR PAROLE VIOLATION

Cuticura Heals Blisters All Over Body And Hands

"My trouble began with little blisters that appeared all over my body and hands and after a couple of days would break and form large, sore eruptions. They had an itching sensation that was almost unbearable at times, especially upon retiring and arising in the morning. The breaking out was unsightly, especially on my hands, and when I got warm in bed the irritation used to keep me awake."

"I decided to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Mary M. Mingie, 5124 Maple Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

Negro Patrolman Seized in Oxnard Disturbance

White Musician Gets Bullet in Thigh at Party

Clubs, Bricks and Fists Also Used in Struggle

Will M. Jones, colored patrolman attached to the Newton-street station, is being held by Oxnard police as a result of a free-for-all fight at a party at Oxnard in which Jones and two others were shot and several others injured. Jones was shot in the arm; Virgil Mayes, a musician, white, in the thigh, and a man known as Lugo Porto Rico, colored, in the arm. Retaliating clubs, bricks and fists climaxed an all-night party attended by nearly fifty Mexicans and negroes, according to Oxnard authorities. The fight was described as a "chicklin" party in which pigs feet, ears and hide are featured as delicacies. Liquor is said to have flowed.

FIGHT OVER WOMAN
The trouble started about dawn, over a woman. Lugo Porto Rico intervened and the Los Angeles police officer, according to Chief of Police Murray of Oxnard, started shooting. Other guns were brought into play and unarmed guests leaped into the fray with whatever weapons came handy.

Patrolman Jones and several colored companions were about to start for Los Angeles when Oxnard officers seized them. It is reported. Jones was taken to the County Jail and later to the County Hospital. Lugo Porto Rico was sent to a hospital, both he and Jones being held under guard. A negro and a Mexican girl, said to have been the cause of the disturbance, are being sought.

Mayes, the white musician, was brought here in an auto by four negroes. Motorcycle Officers Curran gave chase to the speeding car in Calhoun street and halted it on Seventh street after a long chase in which he fired several shots.

SEIZURES MADE
On hearing of the fight at Oxnard, police arrested Mayes and his four colored companions on suspicion. They gave their names as Maude Bentley, 14 years of age, 925 East Twenty-ninth street; Betty Mason, 20, 1146 East Fifty-third street; Walter Tomba, 21, 1435 East Fifty-first street; and Ole Loftman, 28, the driver, 1633 East Adams street.

Mayes, who is 34, was treated for a flesh wound in the thigh at the Receiving Hospital. Police say he told them he was one of the orchestra that played for the party and was merely a bystander when struck by a stray bullet.

PROHIBITION BRINGS DROP IN FELONIES

Officer Declares Bootleg Makes Criminals So Drunk They Cannot Operate

Prohibition apparently has caused a reduction of felonies in Boston, but has increased misdemeanors involving the drinking of potent liquors, according to Stephen J. Flaherty, inspector of the Boston police department.

Inspector Flaherty, accompanied by Francis P. Haggerty, another Boston police inspector, came to Los Angeles to take into custody Andrew Jacques, alias John Ingram, alias G. H. Nash, alias Harry Hunter, alias William A. Wood, recently paroled from San Quentin and wanted in Boston on charges of forgery and larceny. They departed with their prisoner yesterday.

"Since prohibition there has been an appreciable reduction in our prison population in Massachusetts," said Flaherty. "At present there are only 800 prisoners in our State penitentiary. Institutions for the punishment of minor offenders, however, show an increase."

The inspector explains this phenomenon on the basis of the inferiority of the liquor consumed today. "It's this way," he said. "It requires only a very small quantity of bootleg to make a man drunk. That's why we have so many drunks. On the other hand, bootleg imbued to give a man nerve to commit crime usually makes him so drunk that he is unable to carry out his plans."

Boston hasn't been hit so hard as other large cities by the rising tide of crime, Inspector Flaherty said. "There are two reasons for this," he commented. "One being the efficiency of the police force developed since the strike in 1919, the other the city's geographical location."

"Our police force of 2000 men is made up almost entirely of former soldiers and marines recruited since the strike. They are all young strapping fellows, untrammelled by the traditions and precedents that often impair a police department's efficiency. None of the old-timers who walked out in 1919 were taken back on the force."

"The situation of Boston on a peninsula makes it a hard town in which to run a criminal job. All the avenues leading out are carefully guarded, and the only other place to go is the bay. So the criminal patrol has come to the conclusion that Boston is a bad place for its business."

TRADERS TO HEAR CARASSO

PARKING LIMIT URGED

The establishment of two-hour parking restrictions on Pasadena avenue from Avenue 50 to Avenue 45 has been requested of the City Council by residents of that district.

EDNA-STREET BRIDGE ASKED

The need of a bridge on Edna street near Dorchester avenue was called to the City Council's attention yesterday in a petition from property owners.

BOXER PILOT SEEKS BALM FOR INJURY

Brings Suit for Damages of $10,207 as Result of Auto Accident

Charging he was injured and bruised in an automobile accident September 29, last, Carlo Curtia, an officer of the Newboys' Club and a manager of pugilists, brought suit for $10,207 damages against E. D. Mauser, who he declared was responsible for the crash.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Vermont avenue and Fourth street, according to Curtia. Curtia said he had signaled for a left-hand turn, but that Mauser failed to observe his signal, and the crash followed. Curtia, who said he had been earning $250 a week as a manager of boxers, stated he has been unable to follow his occupation since the accident because of his injuries. The case was prepared by Attorney Ernest M. Torcia.

ANNEXATION WAY CLEARED

Adoption of Ordinance Expected to Make Venice Consolidation Effective Thanksgiving

The consolidation of Venice with Los Angeles will become effective on or about Thanksgiving Day as a result of the adoption late yesterday by the Los Angeles City Council of the ordinance formally declaring the two cities consolidated. The ordinance must be published for thirty days and then certified to by the Secretary of State before consolidation becomes effective. It is expected that these formalities will be completed on or about November 28, so that Venice will eat its Thanksgiving dinner in Los Angeles.

The Los Angeles City Council, Venice and county officials wrestled all day yesterday with the question of whether or not to adopt the consolidation ordinance yesterday or to wait until November 28, so that consolidation would become effective December 28.

City Attorney Stephens announced to the Council late yesterday afternoon that all difficulties in the way of immediate adoption of the ordinance had been solved, and that the way was cleared for the adoption of the ordinance. This was done, upon motion of Councilman Moore, of whose district Venice will be a part, seconded by Councilman Sparks.

The matter of collecting taxes in Venice will be handled by the appointment by County Tax Collector Welch of a deputy who will be stationed in Venice to collect the taxes, as the county is under contract to collect Los Angeles city taxes.

NEW GUARDIAN OF CITY RIDES WAVES

Notables Attend Christening of Fire Boat at Harbor

A BOTTLE of foamite across her bows sent the city's new steel fire boat skidding down the ways at the yards of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding & Drydock Corporation at high tide yesterday morning, a noteworthy addition to the port's facilities. The sponsor was Mrs. Ralph J. Scott, wife of the city's fire chief.

She took the water beautifully, the Fire Department band playing the national anthem as the new boat's throaty siren and every steamer and factory whistle in the harbor joined in the celebration.

Scene at shipbuilding yards yesterday when craft was launched.

Inner harbor opened up with a nerve-racking din.

It will be a month before she is officially turned over to the Fire Department and then the city will have a thoroughly modern, sea-going fire-fighter of 2200 horsepower, capable of throwing 10,000 gallons of water a minute from her five monitors and twenty ground lances.

The boat, ninety-nine feet in length, with a beam of nineteen feet, cost approximately $214,000. The craft has three propelling engines, connected directly to her three screws and designed to give her a cruising speed of seventeen knots.

The craft was designed by G. N. Newby, marine architect for the city, under operation specifications provided by the city of Los Angeles. A second boat, similar in design, will be constructed under the provisions of the $400,000 bond issue recently voted for fireboat construction.

Among the notables present at the launching ceremonies were Fire Chief Ralph J. Scott, Chief of Police R. Lee Heath, Mayor Croyer, Arthur Eldridge, chairman of the Board of Public Works, G. W. Rochester of the Board of Fire Commissioners, Harry Summers, American Bureau of Shipping, William Smith, representing Lloyd's of London, Charles E. Cook, representing the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, E. E. Shook, naval architect; L. E. Caverly, chief engineer, Los Angeles Shipbuilding & Drydock Corporation; J. C. MacGillivray, marine superintendent Standard Oil Company, and C. W. Smith, marine superintendent Pan-American Petroleum Company.

Beauty Sues to Collect Note of Film Producer

Clara Whipple Young, Hollywood beauty, yesterday filed suit for the collection of a promissory note against Dale H. Shaw, motion picture producer. She asks $564.50.

The complaint stated the plaintiff had advanced the defendant a total of $560.50 in various sums about June 15, 1923. Shaw, it was stated, had made one payment on account of $50 and $56 of the sum asked is for interest.

TELEPHONE INCREASE REPORTED IN VALLEY

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)
VAN NUYS, Oct. 20.—New figures just issued by the Pacific Telephone Company in San Fernando Valley show 742 telephones in Van Nuys, an increase of ninety-nine since the first of the year. There are 570 telephones at Lancaster, an increase of 278 since the first of the year, Lankershim being one of the large central exchanges of the company in the valley. According to other figures of the company, Glendale now has 824 telephones, an increase of 264 since January 1. Burbank has 1270 telephones, a gain of 137 since the first of this year. Within the last nine months the company has increased its service extensively, many new general and private lines having been strung over various sections in the valley.

TEN-FOR-ONE PROMOTERS FILE APPEAL

Pair Sentenced in Railroad Merger Case Say Verdict Was Unjustified

Attorneys for Thomas Hennessey and Harry D. Hibbs, convicted ten-for-one railroad merger promoters, filed appeals yesterday afternoon in the Second District Court of Appeal. Hennessey and Hibbs were sentenced to serve from thirty to 100 years by Judge Hahn when convicted on grand larceny charges.

THOMAS HENNESSEY

The appeals were filed by Attorneys Silvestri and Schenck. They assert that the evidence was insufficient to justify the verdict, and that the verdict was contrary to the evidence and to law. They further assert that the judge erred in certain of his instructions to the jury, and in overruling certain objections made by the defense.

Hennessey and Hibbs were convicted on thirty counts of larceny by trick and device. They were accused of obtaining several hundred thousand dollars from local investors on the strength of a story that they were negotiating a $4,000,000 railroad merger that would return $10 for every dollar invested.

HOLD MAN AFTER ROW WITH STEPMOTHER

Gordon St. George yesterday was held to answer by Justice Marchetti, charged with assault with a deadly weapon upon his stepmother, Mrs. Melissa St. George of 2818 South Bronson avenue. It was testified that St. George, during a quarrel with his stepmother, cut her with a sharp edge of a tin can and struck her with a bludgeon. Dep. Dist. Atty. Aggeler prosecuted. Bail was set at $5000.

"PACIFISTS" LOSE SKIRMISH

Partial Victory Won by "Militarists" in Fight for Park as Training Camp Site

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
LONG BEACH, Oct. 20.—A partial victory was chalked up here today by the "militarists," represented by the American Legion, Spanish War Veterans and the Parent-Teacher Association, in their fight against the City Council's opposition to the use of Recreation Park as a camp site for the high school reserve officers' training camp.

In a stinging arraignment of so-called "pacifists," M. O. C. Hull, past commander of the local American Legion post, addressed the City Council and defended the training corps. He declared that its purpose is to train young men for national defense. Declaring it to be a military organization, C. H. Cordray, one of the leaders of the movement to prevent the use of the park for military training purposes, declared his opposition to all such training.

"This same thing which has invaded the Long Beach schools was taught in Germany twenty years ago. Look at Germany today," he declared dramatically to the Councilmen. Cordray was free also in his criticism of the Boy Scout movement in that he said, "It tends toward militarism."

Representatives of various patriotic organizations, including A. H. Hollingsworth of the Spanish War Veterans; Mrs. N. W. Westergaard, patriotic chairman of the Parent-Teacher Association and Mrs. R. C. Temple, president of the City High School Parent-Teacher Association, spoke in favor of permitting the use of the park for a training camp. Capt. James C. Gunn, in command of the Long Beach R.O.T.C., defended the organization strongly.

SHRINERS IN MEXICO ARE GIVEN WARNING

RELIGIOUS DEFENSE LEAGUE PROTESTS PROFANATION OF PATRON SAINT

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
MEXICO CITY, Oct. 20.—Each of the 100 Shriners of Islam Temple, San Francisco, visiting here, found a printed circular in his mail box at his hotel, warning him not to visit on Wednesday the shrine of the Virgin of Guadalupe, located in a suburb of Mexico City and included in the Temple's schedule for sightseeing trips. The circulars were signed, "National League of Religious Defense."

The last paragraph of the circulars calls upon all Mexicans and all Catholics to be present at the Guadalupe Shrine on Wednesday, to "avoid that the country's patron saint be profaned by American Masons." The rest of the circular is a violent attack on American Masonry.

GIRL SCOUTS TO OBSERVE WEEK

Will Demonstrate Value of Training

Parades, Window Exhibits Contemplated

All Churches to Conduct Special Services

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—November 7 to November 14, next, is Girl Scout Week, which 122,460 Girl Scouts and their leaders all over the United States will observe.

"At this time, Girl Scouts will have the opportunity of demonstrating the value of the training they have learned through playing the game of Girl Scouting," declares Mrs. Jane Deeter Ripplin, national director of the Girl Scouts.

There will be parades, window exhibits and displays where the Girl Scouts will demonstrate how they learn their cooking badge, their laundry badge, their child-care and first-aid badges and even how they learn to make baskets, lamps or tied and dyed scarves and handkerchiefs.

On Girl Scout Sunday, November 8, churches of all denominations are arranging to hold their services especially for the Girl Scouts, who will go to church in groups, all arrayed in their uniforms.

The outstanding feature of the week's celebration upon which the most emphasis is being laid is that in every community where there is Girl Scouting one evening will be set aside for the Girl Scouts to buy, prepare, cook and serve the dinner in their own homes. One of the first merit badges to be acquired by the Girl Scouts is usually the cooking badge. More than 2000 Girl Scouts passed their tests as cooks last year. The Girl Scout Merit Badge is by no means a simple one to earn for household economy and dietetics are both taken into strict account.

The Girl Scouts will conduct ten regional conferences this year, instead of the Eastern and Middle Western conferences which have always been held hitherto in the fall. This change was decided upon at the eleventh annual convention in Boston last May. It is made in order that all those who are interested in the Girl Scout program or who want to learn how to make Girl Scouting of more use in their own community may have the opportunity. Girl Scout Regions 11 and 12 are to have one conference in California and one in Washington or Oregon.

Charged in a secret indictment returned last Wednesday by the Federal grand jury with using the mails to defraud in selling lots in a 10,000-acre tract on an island in the State of Sinaloa, Mex., Mrs. E. M. Harper, 1141 North El Centro street, Hollywood, last night notified Deputy United States Marshal Manterina that she would transfer her interest into the custody of Federal officers today. Also named in the indictment is W. H. O'Brien, her sales manager, whose whereabouts is unknown.

The indictment contains nine counts, asserting that many of the investors were victimized.

According to the charges, Mrs. Harper represented that she owned 34,348 acres on the island of Palmito del Verde, in the State of Sinaloa, known as Plantation Palmito del Verde. She and O'Brien are asserted to have organized O'Brien Company, incorporated under Mexican law.

Among the asserted fraudulent representations were statements made in literature that purchasers would be given a clear title to lots which sold for from $20 to $50, which would be impossible under Mexican law because Americans are not given direct title, it is declared. It is also charged that the land was falsely advertised as rich with a soil as productive as the plantations of Hawaii, with ebony and cedar trees in profusion and with beautiful clear lakes, good roads and excellent schools.

Mrs. Harper last night retained Otto Christensen to represent her. Through her attorney she stated that she is ready and willing to prove that the land is of high quality and the best type of land for agricultural purposes.

"Many of the purchasers are well-known local men and before buying personally inspected the acreage," Mrs. Harper stated.

"At no time did I misrepresent or conduct transactions in a fraudulent manner. So far as titles are concerned, deeds have been delivered to purchasers who have completed their contracts."

The contracts of purchase provide that all purchasers must place themselves to qualify to take title under Mexican law. This necessitates the forming of a company which takes the legal title to the land. This provision of the Mexican law involves a nominal expense of approximately $20.

"I am ready to waive all consideration of technical matters and proceed with an immediate trial."

BANKER PRAISES FEDERAL RESERVE

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 20.—Praising the development of the Federal Reserve Banking System to be the most historic event outside of the World War, that has occurred in this country in the past fifteen years, A. C. Haas, president of the First National Bank, spoke at the Kiwanis Club luncheon today on "The Federal Reserve System."

It was through the installation of the Federal Reserve System in the United States, under the Congressional Federal Reserve Act of 1913, that this nation obtained protection for all time against financial panics, such as that of 1927, when hundreds of the national banks failed overnight and the country's greatest industries were on the verge of financial ruin, the speaker declared.

Blazes Trail Across Continent

Sets Navigation Record

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hoag, photographed after Hoag's successful journey from Astoria, Or., to New York by boat.

ADVENTURE HERO HERE

Hoag Arrives in City After Completing Trip From Coast to Coast Over Waterways

John Edwin Hoag, member of the Adventurers' Club, who recently completed a trip by boat across the continent from Oregon to New York, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday afternoon. A committee headed by Fred Thompson, president of the Los Angeles Adventurers' Club, greeted Hoag at Central Station.

Hoag left Astoria, Or., on May 10, last, with Frank Wilton, photographer, Valentine Woodbury, business man, and Spy Wapata, their canine mascot, in an eighteen-foot motor boat in an effort to cross the continent by water.

The feat was successful, the little party of navigators arriving in New York on the 4th inst.

ONE PORTAGE
All of the journey was made by water with the exception of portage across the Continental Divide, where no navigable waterways exist.

The route taken included the Columbia River, the Missouri River, the Mississippi River, the Ohio River, the Illinois River, the St. Lawrence River, the Great Lakes, the Canadian side, following it into Georgian Bay.

From Georgian Bay Hoag piloted the record-breaking watercraft through the Trent waterways into Lake Ontario, up the St. Lawrence River to Sorel, Que., and across Lake Champlain into the Hudson, to New York.

FIRST TRIP OF KIND
This is the first time that a transcontinental motor boat trip of the sort has been made. More than 5000 miles was traversed during the trip. The boat is now in the hands of the Smithsonian Institution.

Hoag, who is a magazine and newspaper writer, returned with abundant material and a dislike for bacon and eggs, which happened to be the principal diet on the cruise.

One-Man Party Beaten as Vote Bans Annexation

The annexationist party in a small strip of Walnut Park adjoining Huntington Park on the south turned out to be a one-man party yesterday. Results of the strip at a special election voted against consolidation with Huntington Park.

Of nine registered voters in the Walnut Park strip, eight went to the polls. Seven voted against annexation, leaving one abstaining on an affirmative ballot.

It is believed at Huntington Park that voters feared that annexation would prevent the widening of Florence avenue, proceedings for which were started several months ago by the county. The annexation of the boundary between Huntington Park and Walnut Park.

Crash of Autos Makes Fireman Forget His Cold

Lee McIntyre, 627 North Herndon street, a city fireman, started for the Receiving Hospital yesterday to be treated for a case of grip, and arrived there requiring attention for injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

At Second and Hope streets McIntyre's machine and a car driven by Dr. Mary E. Becker, 244 South Griffin street, collided. McIntyre was badly bruised.

GIRL IS INJURED WHEN HIT BY SWITCH ENGINE

Mary Gray, 18 years of age, of 123 South Clarence street, was struck by a Southern Pacific switch engine at Seventh and Alameda streets yesterday. She was taken to the Receiving Hospital suffering from concussion of the brain and bruises. She will recover.

Arizona Refused Extradition for Woman at Beach

Extradition of Mrs. Estelle Fisher of Long Beach to Arizona was refused by Gov. Richardson yesterday.

Mrs. Fisher and her first husband, G. M. Lucas, were divorced in Arizona several years ago, it was stated at the hearing. It being arranged that their 4-year-old son, Charles, should spend six months of each year with each parent and should not be taken from the State without the posting of a bond.

Mrs. Fisher had posted a $3000 surety bond when she remarried and brought the child to California. It was stated, but objection had been raised as to the character of the bond.

Mrs. Fisher's present and former husbands both were present at the hearing, as was Deputy Sheriff Tummins of Arizona.

Church States Arrested Man Not on Its List

Albert E. Lombard of the Christian Science Committee on Publication for Southern California has issued the following statement:

In the Times for last Monday, mention was made of the arrest of Thomas W. Chaburn.

He is not a member of the Christian Science Church, nor is the Miss Bradford, who made complaint against him.
